4-1-2007

Since you're here : vol. 01, issue 01 (April/May 2007)

Nelson Poynter Memorial Library.

Follow this and additional works at: https://digital.usfsp.edu/npml_syh

Part of the Library and Information Science Commons

Recommended Citation

This Other is brought to you for free and open access by the Library Publicity and Events at Digital USFSP. It has been accepted for inclusion in Since You're Here by an authorized administrator of Digital USFSP.
Imagery Relaxation Technique:
1. Find a quiet place where you will not be disturbed,
2. Sit or lie down in a comfortable position,
3. Close your eyes and picture your favorite relaxing place,
4. Focus on the colors of your place,
5. Focus on the sounds, even if it's completely silent,
6. Imagine the touch and feel of your place,
7. Concentrate on the smells of your place,
8. Open your eyes, when you are ready.

⇒ Call Number: LB3609.P35 2006 (3rd Floor of the Library)

National Poetry Month

The Summer Tree

In all the summer glut of green,
Serrated leaves, a dark and shifty screen,
Catalpa flowers, unseasonal surprise,
To tense the landscape up for drowsy eyes.

We come alive beholding points of white,
Among the leaves, immense rosettes alight.

The blessing of pure form that opens space
And makes us stop and look in sudden peace.

⇒ Found in the Twentieth Century American Poetry Database, USF Libraries