Information from University Police

911 EMERGENCY

The 911 emergency telephone service is available in Pinellas County. If you dial 911 off-campus, it will go to one of two dispatching stations, north or south county, which ever serves the area you are calling from.

If you wish to call 911 from campus for an off-campus emergency, you must dial 9 and then 911 to get the emergency switchboard. Failure to dial 9 will prevent you from obtaining an outside line keeping you within the University telephone system.

If you are on campus and need to contact the University Police, use 140. REMEMBER at times the U.P. officers are using a Radio Phone Patch system and there may be a moderate delay. A voice synthesizer will actuate and say "Please stand by." Then wait until the officer answers and responds to your request, complaint or inquiry.

PATIENCE IS ESSENTIAL FOR THE PROPER USE OF THE SYSTEM. Thank you.

Members of the University community can also contact emergency assistance by calling 911 (a free call) and tell the operator that you need help at the University of South Florida; then indicate that you wish the University Police called and give your location. Of course, you may always use the regular University Police extension directly by dialing 140.

* * *

Thefts have increased around campus recently. Be certain personal property is secured or on your person. Items and offices should not be left unattended or unlocked. BE ALERT: the property items saved may be your own! Contact the University Police immediately should you become aware of any suspicious activity.

Need an escort to your car after class? Call University Police (X-140) from the free phone in the Bayboro Hall lobby. University Police are on duty 24 hours a day to assist you.

Key tags are also available free of charge from University Police in SPB-127. The tags help identify your keys (by a code number) should they become lost.
