with the Small Business Institute (SBI) program. The SBI program, through the Small Business Administration, offers local businesses guidance in all areas of business.

The members of SAO feel that we have the finest faculty advisors available and if they don't motivate you into accounting, then no one can. Faculty advisors are Professor Eugene E. McClung and Professor Maryanne Rouse.

Any student interested in joining SAO may do so by contacting any of the following officers:

- President: Kathy Allen
- Vice President: Beth Marshall
- Treasurer: Todd Caruso
- Recording Secretary: Marge Mulcachey
- Corresponding Secretary: Mary Burch

We of SAO would like to extend an open invitation for all students interested in joining our fine organization.

FRIDAY EVENING FILM SERIES...USF/SP-AUDITORIUM

COLOR Rated: PG
104 minutes

TWO SHOWS:
7:30 PM and 9:30 PM

OCTOBER 6

Starring GEORGE BURNS, JOHN DENVER
Directed by Carl Reiner

Comedy genius GEORGE BURNS teams with famous minstrel JOHN DENVER in this box-office blockbuster. OH, GOD! is a fanciful adventure in humor and humanity. It tells of God coming down to earth in the cool, sharp form of old GEORGE BURNS. The person he picks to help him straighten out mankind is the assistant manager of a supermarket—JOHN DENVER. Needless to say, there are plenty of surprises.

"...A personal triumph for George Burns. "Oh, God!" is an outrageous-funny comedy."—Aaron Gold, Chicago Tribune

"...Deft, spry, fast, ingenious, warm, likable, funny and uplifting."—Charles Champlin, L.A. Times

RALPH NADER TO SPEAK AT USF/SP

The USF/SP Outdoors Club and the Lecture Series present a discussion with Ralph Nader in the Auditorium, Building A, on Wednesday, October 4 at 5:00 PM. Mr. Nader's discussion includes a "How-To" guide for citizen action and other related research regarding consumerism. A good question-and-answer session follows.

FREE TICKETS are available in the Activities Office. There is a limited supply of tickets for students and non-students. Tickets are good until 4:45 PM. Mr. Nader's lecture begins at 5:00 PM.

The OUTDOORS CLUB will present an introductory program concerning the Public Interest Research Group at 4:00 PM in a display outside the Auditorium. They will also highlight local efforts toward consumer power.

For further information, contact Student Activities, SFB 113.
The University of South Florida Department of Mass Communications will initiate courses on the Bayboro Campus in St. Petersburg beginning in Quarter I (September).

The department, with more than 800 majors in the Tampa Campus, plans to begin the program in St. Petersburg by offering the core curriculum ("Writing for the Mass Media" and "Mass Communications and Society") in Quarter I with progressively advanced courses during Quarters II and III 1979, and in the following academic year.

If student demand proves sufficient, according to Dr. Emery "Pete" Sasser, department chairman, "the plan provides that most courses toward a major in the news-editorial sequence—and eventually in other sequences—may be completed in two academic years. It should be noted that the core curriculum will not be offered every quarter and that these two courses are prerequisites to all other courses in the department."

The courses required for a major in mass communications (news-editorial sequence), in addition to the core curriculum, are: Beginning Reporting, Advanced Reporting, Communications Law, News Editing, and Public Affairs Reporting. To complete the 48-hour requirement, students may select from other mass communications courses, including Magazine Article Writing, Critical Writing, Typography, Photography, and Contemporary Newspaper Problems.

Admission to the core curriculum and the department requires 75 academic hours with a minimum grade point average of 2.5, completion of the freshman English courses with a minimum "C" grade, and proficiency in typing.

Students interested in majoring in Mass Communications should contact the Admissions Office, St. Petersburg Campus, 893-9142. In Quarter I, 1978, "Mass Communications and Society" and "Writing for the Mass Media" are scheduled at 1-3 PM and 3-5 PM respectively on Mondays and Wednesdays.

Shattered feelings under new ceilings My Enervations rising through the sky wanting a new love, since the feelings of benevolence and get taken for a ride with one of those, Lofty with pride
Yes, haughtily Contemptuous willfully malicious
Under a mask of scintillating lies
No it isn't heavy on my shoulders

- WILDERNESS AWARENESS
- FIRST AID & CPR

The Student Accounting Organization extends a welcome to all new students as well as to all returning students. SAO is open to all students in an effort to stimulate interest in the study of accounting and in the field of accounting as a profession. The club also attempts to be of service to the University and to the community. Many efforts are made each quarter in order to fulfill these goals. In Quarter I, SAO sponsors two luncheons with guest speakers, who discuss pertinent and current accounting topics. These luncheons are free to SAO members and all others are welcome for a nominal charge. SAO also conducts an accounting lab whereby our members assist fellow students in all areas of accounting. In conjunction with the accounting lab, SAO and the Student Business Association provide a study room/library, offering reference books, periodicals and sample tests. The library also contains brochures on all the Big Eight accounting firms. SAO also sponsors a book consignment for students to sell and purchase textbooks in the South Lounge of B Building. SAO's first social event was held on the first day of class. The get-acquainted Pool Party featured free beer and popcorn.

An organizational meeting and luncheon will be held on October 5 at the Edgewater Motel. The guest speaker will be Mrs. Fran DeGellehe of the CPA firm of Ayers & Forret and a member of the American Society of Women Accountants. Mrs. DeGellehe will speak about Career choices in accounting.

Future luncheon speakers include USF Alumni, James Macaluso of Macaluso, Demeree & Beller, PA. Mr. Macaluso's firm specializes in gift and estate tax work. It is interesting to note that Mr. Macaluso's firm employs numerous accountants who are not CPA's. Students interested in accounting but not in becoming CPA's should find this luncheon very informative.

SAO has many outstanding students. Marie Ricky, past president of SAO, has recently accepted a position with Florida Federal Savings & Loan Association of St. Petersburg as a Cost Accountant. Marie is a senior accounting major who will graduate fall quarter 1978. Beth Marshall, fifth year accounting major and current Vice President of SAO, is employed by the CPA firm of Garcia & Ortiz. Beth attends USF full time as well as being employed by Elliot Stern, a part time student and full time SAO member is manager of Ross Chevrolet's leasing facilities. SAO members Mary Burch and Brian Bell are also active working with Professor Eugene E. McClung (continued on Page Eight)
Noncredit art history course offered

"History of Western Art," a new noncredit course, will be conducted on the University of South Florida's (USF) St. Petersburg Campus this fall. The university is offering the same course in the evening and during the day. Evening sessions meet Thursdays, Oct. 5 through Nov. 16, and daytime classes run Friday mornings, Oct. 6 through Nov. 17.

This survey course will cover Western art from early Christian to modern times. Stress will be placed on the changes that take place in art concurrent with changes in the cultural environment. The course is designed to increase the participant's understanding of and interest in art.

Instructor is Anita Kenerson, a St. Petersburg resident with a master of arts degree from Columbia University. Classes will be held on the USF campus, and a field trip is planned to the St. Petersburg Museum of Fine Arts.

Persons who wish to enroll in either the Thursday evening or the Friday morning course should contact Continuing Education at USF in Tampa, telephone 974-2403. Fee for the course is $18 per person. Early registration is encouraged since enrollment is limited.

"Coping with stress" presented at USFSP

Learning to cope with stress in everyday life is a problem for many people. A noncredit course at the University of South Florida's (USF) St. Petersburg Campus, "Coping with Stress: Relaxation Techniques," is designed to teach participants how to handle stress. It will meet Mondays 7-9 PM, October 2 through November 6.

When does stress become distress? Is it possible to change one's habitual response patterns to stress situations? Course instructor Dona Celander will help participants confront these and other questions.

Skills which help people cope with stress will be studied. Through lecture, demonstration, journal-keeping and small group discussion, the course should help students to identify stress situations, responses to them, and techniques to control tension and reduce stress.

Dona Celander is a lecturer in the Rehabilitation Counseling Program in USF's College of Social and Behavioral Sciences, as well as a counselor and biofeedback instructor. Fee for the six-week course is $35, and enrollment is limited. To register in the course or for further information, contact USF's Continuing Education in Tampa, 974-2403.

Following on the heels of Edwin Newman's two delightful books (Strictly Speaking and A Civil Tongue) on the use, abuse, and misuse of our language, comes Simple and Direct by Jacques Barzun. The book's subtitle, A Rhetoric for Writers, indicates its purpose and theme. In six chapters Barzun discusses words: the choice of them, how to use them correctly and incorrectly, what impression they can make on the reader, how to make them mean what you want them to mean when they are all put together, and how to revise them when your ideas don't step out of the prose clearly and concisely. It is a veritable textbook-a manual for any writer to keep on his desk in order to combat the effect of today's jargon which bombards us daily from newscast and newshawk.

Going from a "passive" subject to an "active" one, consider the Instructional Series of books recently received by the Library on the game of tennis. Under the auspices of the U.S. Tennis Association, various elements of the game have been written about in detail. How and where to serve the ball, how to cover the court, and singles and doubles maneuvers are a few of the tactics explained and illustrated with line drawings. These books are in the GV section, all you tennis buffs -- come and get em!

C.W.S.P. (College Work Study Program) INFORMATION FOR ST. PETERSBURG CAMPUS...

* HOW DO FACULTY AND STAFF MEMBERS EMPLOY A C.W.S.P. STUDENT?

Faculty and staff members wishing to have the services of a student assistant may notify the Financial Aid Office on the St. Petersburg Campus concerning this need. Depending upon the order in which such requests come in, the requirements for a given job, and the number of eligible students available, such requests will be filled insofar as it is possible.

* HOW ARE STUDENTS SELECTED FOR C.W.S.P.?

Students who apply for financial aid and indicate employment as a priority have taken the first step toward establishing eligibility for the program. Usually only those who have observed the deadlines for application and who show financial need will receive such an award, since funds are limited.

* WHY IS IT DIFFICULT TO FIND NEW C.W.S.P. STUDENTS LATE IN THE YEAR?

When all the C.W.S.P. funds allocated to the University have been awarded to students, there can be no more such awards given out unless it becomes apparent that some students will not be using the full amount of money allotted to them. Only then can consideration be given to students who apply late.

For further information, please see Fran Seagrave in the Financial Aid Office.
