6-2-1987

Crow's Nest : 1987 : 06 : 02

University of South Florida St. Petersburg.

Follow this and additional works at: https://digital.usfsp.edu/crows_nest

Recommended Citation
https://digital.usfsp.edu/crows_nest/70

This News Article is brought to you for free and open access by the University History: Campus Publications at Digital USFSP. It has been accepted for inclusion in Crow's Nest by an authorized administrator of Digital USFSP.
CAMPUS POLICE ESCORT SERVICE

PROTECT YOURSELF AGAINST CRIME!

Call CAMPUS POLICE anytime for an escort to your car, the parking lot, etc. Dial 140 from the free phone in BAY Lobby or SPB Lounge.

DON'T HESITATE TO CALL!

USA Postage stamps on sale in the Activities Office and in the USPS Mailroom

CROWN'S NEST

June 2, 1987

University of South Florida St. Petersburg Campus

Vol. 18, No. 8

ALVAREZ HEADS NEW SG

The Student Government of USF at St. Petersburg would like to announce the official results of the elections held March 31 and April 1, 1987.

Officers:
President: Joe Alvarez
Secretary: Arleen Howell

Representatives:
Business: Monica May
Education: Nancy Greenstein
Education: Karen Hoban
Nursing: Sharon Colbert
Social and Behavioral Science: Mary Ellen Benway

The new legislative session began on May 1, 1987.

CAMPUS POOL RE-OPENS
After the long COLD winter the USF St. Petersburg Swimming Pool has opened for the season. During the summer, the hours will be 11:00 AM to 7:00 PM Monday thru Sunday. Use of the pool is free to all members of the USF community. USF ID required. Families or two guests permitted.

COURTESY PHONE ATTACHED

Recently the tan courtesy phone in the lobby of Bayboror Hall was savagely attacked by an unknown assailant. Campus police have no leads at the present time. The phone will undergo reconstructive surgery by the crack USF Physical Plant staff.

STUDENTS: PLEASE TREAT THE COURTESY PHONE WITH COURTESY! Please limit calls to five minutes and have patience with occasionally temperamental circuits.

POLICE AUCTION

The USF police held its annual Loot & Festival Auction on Thursday, April 16. The event was a success, earning $74,76. Additionally, about a dozen books were contributed to the USF St. Petersburg Women's Organization for its annual book sale. Thanks go to Officer Pete Daly as coordinator and auctioneer.

WOMEN'S CENTER

by Joe Feuer

Student Rochelle Saporito leads the Women's Center at USF St. Petersburg Campus. The facility is located in SPB-219 and is open on Mondays and Wednesdays from 3:00 PM; on Tuesdays from 11:30 AM to 1:00 PM; and Thursdays from 11:30 AM to 5:00 PM. Ms. Saporito, a psychology major, is coordinated USF Women's Awareness Week events on campus. Joe Feuer spoke with her about the Women's Center and its activities.

JF: How did the Women's Center originate and what is its purpose?
RS: Women all too often forget how much work it has taken to get where we are. I don't think we should get too comfortable, and we need to help each other along the way. The Center originated from discussions in a Bayboror psychology class.

JF: Does your Center have any usefulness to campus males?
RS: I believe so.

JF: Does your Center require membership and affiliation with the Center?
RS: Is there any day care service available on campus to student mothers?
RS: Not at the present, except for financial assistance. We hope to change that, but I don't expect it to happen overnight.

JF: Is your Center affiliated with NOW (National Organization for Women)?
RS: We obtain information from their Pinellas Chapter and inform them of our activities.

JF: How cooperative has the Bayboror Campus administration been with the Center?
RS: The Bayboror administration has been very supportive. We also receive input from the Tampa campus but are not answerable to them.

JF: What is the referral service you have?
RS: It enables us to tell people with any problem—such as a relative with Alzheimers or someone kicked out of their house—where they can get help as quickly as possible. I hope to expand and establish rapport with these various agencies.

JF: How do you feel about the defeat of ERA (Equal Rights Amendment)?
RS: I'm not sure. I wanted it to pass as long as there is confusion between equal rights and equal opportunity. I'm not sure ERA will give women equal opportunity.

JF: How do you feel about Phyllis Schlafly?
RS: I'm always disturbed when women seem to work against each other instead of being aligned. I feel the views she reflects are too conservative; unfortunately, she's highly visible.

JF: Does the Center have a pro or anti-abortion stance?
RS: Our philosophy is that we have to be supportive of each other as human beings whether we agree on the issues or not. Our referral service can help pregnant women whether they consider abortion an alternative or not.

JF: Do you believe there is hope for women's awareness in conservative Pinellas County?
RS: Yes. Issues like child care are just too important to ignore. Rita Garvey recently won a Clearwater election and she is considered to be a feminist.

JF: Who do you feel are the most influential speakers for women's awareness on the local and national scene?
RS: On a very local level, on our campus, Dr. Joy Clingman serves as an excellent example to many, many young women. Her psychology class makes people reveal and question themselves. On a national level, no one stands out.

JF: What about Shirley MacLaine, who seems to have a national forum for her thoughts?
RS: I have no position on Shirley MacLaine. Women don't really need a national speaker; it's time for each woman to speak to themselves.

JF: What do you believe there is hope for women's awareness in conservative Pinellas County?
RS: Yes. Issues like child care are just too important to ignore. Rita Garvey recently won a Clearwater election and she is considered to be a feminist.

JF: Does the Center have a pro or anti-abortion stance?
RS: Our philosophy is that we have to be supportive of each other as human beings whether we agree on the issues or not. Our referral service can help pregnant women whether they consider abortion an alternative or not.

JF: Do you believe there is hope for women's awareness in conservative Pinellas County?
RS: Yes. Issues like child care are just too important to ignore. Rita Garvey recently won a Clearwater election and she is considered to be a feminist.

JF: Who do you feel are the most influential speakers for women's awareness on the local and national scene?
RS: On a very local level, on our campus, Dr. Joy Clingman serves as an excellent example to many, many young women. Her psychology class makes people reveal and question themselves. On a national level, no one stands out.

JF: What about Shirley MacLaine, who seems to have a national forum for her thoughts?
RS: I have no position on Shirley MacLaine. Women don't really need a national speaker; it's time for each woman to speak to themselves.

JF: What do you believe there is hope for women's awareness in conservative Pinellas County?
RS: Yes. Issues like child care are just too important to ignore. Rita Garvey recently won a Clearwater election and she is considered to be a feminist.

JF: Does the Center have a pro or anti-abortion stance?
RS: Our philosophy is that we have to be supportive of each other as human beings whether we agree on the issues or not. Our referral service can help pregnant women whether they consider abortion an alternative or not.

JF: Do you believe there is hope for women's awareness in conservative Pinellas County?
RS: Yes. Issues like child care are just too important to ignore. Rita Garvey recently won a Clearwater election and she is considered to be a feminist.

JF: Who do you feel are the most influential speakers for women's awareness on the local and national scene?
RS: On a very local level, on our campus, Dr. Joy Clingman serves as an excellent example to many, many young women. Her psychology class makes people reveal and question themselves. On a national level, no one stands out.

JF: What about Shirley MacLaine, who seems to have a national forum for her thoughts?
RS: I have no position on Shirley MacLaine. Women don't really need a national speaker; it's time for each woman to speak to themselves.
British Lifestyle

by Joe Feuer

Richard King, originally from Tennessee, is a professor of English and American Studies at the University of Nottingham, England. Prof. King recently presented a lecture on campus. After the formal presentation, student Joe Feuer had an opportunity to ask a few questions about British lifestyle and culture.

JF: Does the Sheriff of Nottingham really exist?
RK: He does exist; I’ve seen him. There is also a statue of Robin Hood in the town, and Sherwood Forest is being turned into a sort of National Park.

JF: What is the speed limit in your area?
RK: Unless marked, it’s seventy miles per hour.

JF: Does the English public feel less safe, since the police do not carry guns?
RK: Not really; the violent crime rate is much lower than here, though it’s rising slowly. Crack cocaine is expected there in force soon. Things usually take a year and a half or so to go over from here.

JF: Do you feel the British peoples’ love for the Royal Family shows any lack of vitality in their own lives?
RK: Yes, but it’s hard to compare with our own obsessions with film stars. It seems to give the people a pride in past glory that a Paul Newman or Ronald Reagan cannot. Americans seem more rootless in the present.

JF: How is English food?
RK: It’s a problem. Something happens in their restaurant kitchens. I don’t know, however; it’s very bland and very fried. I once saw a teenager eating a fried potato sandwich. Can you imagine that?

JF: Are your college’s students as grade conscious as Americans?
RK: No, probably because there are three levels of degrees available. Unless you totally lose interest, it’s hard to graduate without getting at least a third-class degree. It seems that British students write better and talk worse than Americans. I’d rather have American students in the classroom, but rather grade papers from British students.

JF: How is President Reagan thought of in England?
RK: They can’t understand how or why we elected him. His charisma and acting abilities do not cross over to England.

Bayboro Collegiate Humor

Marie: Did you get it if you put a bomb under a female dog?
Henry: Napoleon Blownapart!
Einstein: How do you tell a male chromosome from a female one?
Darwin: Pull down its genes.

FICTION CONTEST

The Society for the Advancement of Poynter Library sponsored the First Bayboro Fiction Contest during spring semester. This year, the contest was open to students on campus only. The 1987 prize of $250 was won by Travis Forsyth Sherman, an education major, for her story, “Laughing Alto,” a story about college students. The Society plans to make the contest an annual event, with one scheduled for fall semester 1987.

USF St. Petersburg Salutes Student Achievers

USF ST. PETERSBURG SALUTES STUDENT ACHIEVERS

The USF St. Petersburg Chapter of Circle K recently received recognition at its District Convention in Plant City. The club won the Kenneth P. Burke Award which recognizes the most improved Chapter.

The USF Bayborod Computer Club is in the process of planning the schedule of activities for the Fall semester, stop by the Computer Center for more information.

Campus Bookstore News

IMPORTANT DATES

June 10 Ring Day! A representative from Herff Jones will be in Bayboro lobby from 10:00 AM - 2:00 PM & 4:00 - 6:00 PM. Plan to take advantage of the discounts available at that time.

June 17 Session B goes on sale at 9:00 AM.

June 21 Father’s Day! Remember Dad with a greeting card from our selection.

USF Bayborod Windship Regatta

The fourth annual Bayboro Windship Regatta, sponsored by the Recreation Department, was held on Saturday, April 4.

Top finishers: Jody Schultz, Andy Cheney, First Class
Don Heselman, Free
Mike Durako, Third

Congratulations to all participants, making it such a successful event.

Pool Raffle Prizes

Student Patrikis Duram won the grand prize in the raffle held on Friday, March 13 to celebrate the reopening of the campus swimming pool. She is the new owner of a green and white USF St. Pete beach towel. Mrs. Durham was elated at her good fortune and stated that the towel held up well and was shown no signs of fraying. Second prize went to Joanne Howard; third prize went to Byrd Holland. Congratulations to all.

Brown Bag Lecture Series

Wednesday, June 10 “Papua New Guinea: Culture and Lifestyle”, Speaker: Dennis Latta, a former Peace Corps Volunteer. Mr. Latta, a graduate of USF at St. Petersburg, recently returned from Papua New Guinea where he served for several years as a Peace Corps volunteer. In this slide-lecture, he reviews his experiences and adventures in the country. NOON in BAY 130, FREE.

Wednesday, July 8 “Great Creatures of the Sea: The Sea Turtles.” Speaker: Jamie Serino, Education, Information, and Public Relations Coordinator, Florida Department of Natural Resources. She has traveled the oceans of the world for millions of years. But, in the past few centuries, they have been exploited by many countries for their meat, shells, leather, oil, and eggs. Today she suffer additional pressures due to human development and incidental catch from fishermen, and nest raiding by raccoons and pachyderms. In this audio-visual presentation, current research and conservation efforts are explored. Mr. Serino provides additional commentary about these creatures and their life cycles. NOON in BAY 130, FREE.

ALL BROWN BAG LECTURES ARE SPONSORED BY THE USF ST. PETERSBURG LECTURE SERIES COMMITTEE.

Bayboro Windship Regatta

The fourth annual Bayboro Windship Regatta, sponsored by the Recreation Department, was held on Saturday, April 4. Top finishers:

Jody Schultz, Andy Cheney, First Class
Don Heselman, Free
Mike Durako, Third

Congratulations to all winners and participants for making it such a successful event.

Pool Raffle Prizes

Student Patrikis Duram won the grand prize in the raffle held on Friday, March 13 to celebrate the reopening of the campus swimming pool. She is the new owner of a green and white USF St. Pete beach towel. Mrs. Durham was elated at her good fortune and stated that the towel held up well and was shown no signs of fraying. Second prize went to Joanne Howard; third prize went to Byrd Holland. Congratulations to all.
Student Rochelle Saporito leads the Women's Center at USF St. Petersburg Campus. The facility is located in SPB-219 and is open on Mondays and Wednesdays from noon to 3:00 PM; on Tuesdays from 11:30 AM to 1:00 PM; and Thursdays from 11:30 AM to 5:00 PM. Ms. Saporito, a psychology major, is coordinated USF Women's Awareness Week events on campus. Joe Feuer spoke with her about the Women's Center and its activities.

JF: How did the Women's Center originate and what is its purpose?

RS: Women all too often forget how much work it has taken to get where we are. I don't think we should get too comfortable, and we need to help each other along the way. The Center originated from discussions in a Bayboro psychology class.

JF: Does your Center have any usefulness to campus males?

RS: I believe so. Our Thursday discussion group allows men and women to come together and share information through dialogue. In the future, we want to address male and female roles. There's been so much change recently that many people don't know where they stand in relation to one another.

JF: Is there any day care service available on campus to student mothers?

RS: Not at the present, except for financial assistance. We hope to change that, but I don't expect it to happen overnight.

JF: Is your Center affiliated with NOW (National Organization of Women)?

RS: We obtain information from their Pinellas Chapter and inform them of our activities. I am a member, but the Center has no direct affiliation.

JF: Does your Center require steady membership and attendance?

RS: We are a walk-in service, available to anyone, male or female, old or young, black or white.

JF: How cooperative has the Bayboro Campus administration been with the Center?

RS: The Bayboro administration has been very supportive. We also receive input from the Tampa campus but are not answerable to them.
Call CAMPUS POLICE anytime for an escort to your car, the parking lot, etc. Dial 140 from the free phone in BAY Lobby or SPB Lounge.
DON'T HESITATE TO CALL!
USA Postage stamps
on sale in the Activities Office and in the USF Mailroom
POR 102
Crow's Nest page 4

JF: What is the referral service you have?

RS: It enables us to tell people with any problem—such as a relative with Alzheimer's or someone kicked out of their house—where they can get help as quickly as possible. I hope to expand and establish rapport with these various agencies.

JF: How do you feel about the defeat of ERA (Equal Rights Amendment)?

RS: I'm not sure I wanted it to pass as long as there is confusion between equal rights and equal opportunity.
I'm not sure ERA will give women equal opportunity.

JF: How do you feel about Phyllis Schlaflly?

RS: I'm always disturbed when women seem to work against each other instead of being aligned. I feel the views she reflects are too conservative; unfortunately, she's highly visible.

JF: Does the Center have a pro or anti-abortion stance?

RS: Our philosophy is that we have to be supportive of each other as human beings whether we agree on the issues or not. Our referral service can help pregnant women whether they consider abortion an alternative or not.

JF: Do you believe there is hope for women's awareness in conservative Pinellas County?

RS: Yes. Issues like child care are just too important to ignore. Rita Garvey recently won a Clearwater election and she is considered to be a feminist.

JF: Who do you feel are the most influential speakers for women's awareness on the local and national scene?

RS: On a very local level, on our campus, Dr. Joy Clingman serves as an excellent example to many, many young women. Her psychology class makes people reveal and question themselves. On a national level, no one stands out.

JF: What about Shirley Maclaine, who seems to have a national forum for her thoughts?

RS: I have no position on Shirley Maclaine. Women don't really need a national speaker; it's time for each woman to speak to themselves.

PUBLICATIONS
The DEADLINE to submit material for the next CROW'S NEST is Tuesday, June 30. The next issue will be printed on Tuesday, July 7. The weekly DEADLINE to submit material for publication in the Regional Campus section of the ORACLE is Wednesday. Articles may be submitted to the Activities Office. Students wishing to serve as official correspondents for the ORACLE should contact the Activities Office as well.

The CROW'S NEST is printed monthly by the Activities Office. Students wishing to assist with the production, please inquire. Your articles and input are solicited.

USF is an affirmative action equal opportunity employer.

CROW'S NEST
University of South Florida St. Petersburg Campus
Vol. 18, No. 8 June 2, 1987

ALVAREZ HEADS NEW SG
The Student Government of USF at St. Petersburg would like to announce the official results of the elections held March 31 and April 1, 1987.

Officers:
President: Joe Alvarez
Secretary: Arleen Howell
Business: Monica May
Education: Nancy Greenstein
Education: Karen Hoban
Nursing: Sharon Colbert
Social and Behavioral Science: Mary Ellen Benway

The new legislative session began on May 1, 1987.

Campus Pool Re-Opens
After the long COLD winter the USF St. Petersburg Swimming Pool has opened for the season. During the summer, the hours will be: 11:00 AM to 7:00 PM Monday thru Sunday. Use of the Pool is free to all members of the USF community. USF ID required. Families or two guests permitted.

DAY CARE
Students with pre-school children may participate in the Day Care Subsidization Program. For further information and application, please contact Lynn Ellyn Messores in the Office of Student Affairs (BAY-118).
COURTESY PHONE ATTACKED
Recently the tan courtesy phone in the lobby of Bayboro Hall was savagely attacked by an unknown assailant. Campus police have no leads at the present time. The phone will undergo reconstructive surgery by the crack USF Physical Plant staff.

STUDENTS: PLEASE TREAT THE COURTESY PHONE WITH COURTESY! Please limit calls to five minutes and have patience with occasionally temperamental circuits.

POLICE AUCTION
The USF police held its annual Lost & Found Auction on Thursday, April 16. The event was a success, earning $74.76. Additionally, about a dozen books were contributed to the USF St. Petersburgs Women's Organization for its annual book sale. Thanks go to Officer Pete Daly as coordinator and auctioneer.

BRITISH LIFESTYLE
by Joe Feuer
Richard King, originally from Tennessee, is a professor of English and American Studies at the University of Nottingham, England. Prof. King recently presented a lecture on campus. After the formal presentation, student Joe Feuer had an opportunity to ask a few questions about British lifestyle and culture.

JF: Does the Sheriff of Nottingham really exist?
RK: He does exist; I've seen him. There is also a statue of Robin Hood in the town, and Sherwood Forest is being turned into a sort of National Park.

JF: What is the speed limit in your area?
RK: Unless marked, it's seventy miles per hour.

JF: Does the English public feel less safe, since the police do not carry guns?
RK: Not really; the violent crime rate is much lower than here, though it's rising slowly. Crack cocaine is expected there in force soon. Things usually take a year and a half or so to go over from America.

JF: Do you feel the British peoples' love for the Royal Family shows an;? lack of vitality in their own lives?
RK: Yes, but it's hard to compare with our own obsessions with film stars. It seems to give the people a pride in past glory that a Paul Newman or Ronald Reagan cannot. Americans seem more rooted in the present.

JF: How is English food?
RK: It's a problem. Some thing happens in their restaurant kitchens. I don't know; however, it's very bland and very fried. I once saw a teenager eating a fried potato sandwich. Can you imagine that?

JF: Are your college's students as grade conscious as Americans?

RK: No, probably because there are three levels of degrees available. Unless you totally lose interest, it's hard to graduate without getting at least a third class degree. It seems that British students write better and talk worse than Americans. I'd rather have American students in the classroom, but rather grade papers from British student.

JF: How is President Reagan thought of in England?

RK: They can't understand how or why we elected him. His charisma and acting abilities do not cross over to England.

BAYBORO COLLEGIATE HUMOR

Marie: What do you get if you put a born b under a French leader?

Henry: Napoleon Blown apart!

Einstein: How do you tell a male chromosome from a female one?

Darwin: Pull down its genes.

De Lorean: What do you get if you cross an IBM computer with a gorilla?

Iacocca: A Hairy Reasoner

This month's jokes were submitted by Joe Feuer. If you thought they were bad, submit your own for next month's edition by dropping them off at the Activities Office. Only clean, intellectual ones can be printed!

Crow's Nest Page 2

FICTION CONTEST
The Society for the Advancement of Poynter Library sponsored the First Bayboro Fiction Contest during spring semester. This year, the contest was open to students on this campus only. The 1987 prize of $250 was won by Travis Forsyth Sherman, an education major, for her story, "Laughing Aloud," a story about college students. The Society plans to make the contest an annual event, with one scheduled for fall semester 1987.

USF ST. PETERSBURG SALUTES
STUDENT ACHIEVERS
WHO'S WHO AMONG AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES
Theresa K. Furnas
Mark D. Lightsey

Page 5
USF GOLDEN SIGNET AWARDS
Melissa Fox
Larry Jones
Ty Schweiger
Virginia Vanneman

INDIVIDUAL HONORS
Mark D. Lightsey - inducted into Omicron Delta Kappa (National Honor Society for Leadership)
Donna Schermaul - inducted into Kappa Delta Pi (National Honor Society in Education), and received the USF College of Education's Award for Academic excellence and Service.
Rochelle Saporito - USF Affirmative Action Award for her role in reactivating the Bayboro Campus Women's Center.
Anne Downes - received the USF Geography Department's Keith Waller Award.

OUTSTANDING SENIOR LEADERS
Theresa K. Furnas Mark D. Lightsey

1987 OUTSTANDING GRADUATE
Mark D. Lightsey

CLUB NEWS
The USF St. Petersburg Chapter of Circle K recently received recognition at its District Convention in Plant City. The club won the Kenneth P. Burke Award which recognizes the most improved Chapter.

The USF Bayboro Computer Club is in the process of planning the schedule of activities for the Fall semester, stop by the Computer Center for more information.

CAMPUS BOOKSTORE NEWS
IMPORTANT DATES
Ring Day! A representative from Herff Jones will be in Bayboro lobby from 10:00 AM - 2:00 PM & 4:00 PM - 6:00 PM. Plan to take advantage of the discounts available at that time. Session B books go on sale at 9:00 AM.
Father's Day! Remember Dad with a greeting card from our selection.

Water Volleyball
by Joe Feuer
A water volleyball tournament will be held Thursday, July 9, at 6:30 pm in the beautiful Bayboro Campus pool, located behind the Dining Center. The entire campus community is welcome. Teams of six players--or individuals wishing to be placed on teams--may register at the Student Activities Office.

Water volleyball is played each weekday from noon to 1:00 pm, weather permitting. On any given day, the galaxy of stars shining may include: Physical Plant Supervisor RON "lightning" BUGG; crafty profs RAY
Students: the pool is for you - come out and use it!

Brown Bag Lecture Series
Wednesday, June 10 "Papua New Guinea: Culture and Lifestyle". Speaker: Dennis Latta, a former Peace Corps Volunteer. Mr. Latta, a graduate of USF at St. Petersburg, recently returned from Papua New Guinea where he served for several years as a Peace Corps volunteer. In this slide lecture, he reviews his experiences and adventures in the country. NOON in BAY 130. FREE

Wednesday, July 8 "Great Creatures of the Sea: The Sea Turtles". Speaker: Jamie Serino, Education, Information, and Public Relations Coordinator, Florida Department of Natural Resources. Sea turtles have traveled the oceans of the world for millions of years. But, in the past few centuries, they have been exploited by many countries for their meat, shells, leather, oil, and eggs. Today they suffer additional pressure from beach development, accidental catch from fishermen, and nest raiding by raccoons and poachers. In this audio-visual presentation, current research and conservation efforts are explored. Mr. Serino provides additional commentary about the great creatures and their life cycles. NOON in BAY 130. FREE

ALL BROWN BAG LECTURES ARE SPONSORED BY THE USF ST. PETERSBURG LECTURE SERIES COMMITTEE.

Bayboro Windship Regatta
The fourth annual Bayboro Windship Regatta, sponsored by the Recreation Office, was held on Saturday, April 4. Top finishers:
First:
Second:
Third:
Jody Schultz
Andy Cheney
First Class
Don Hesselman
Freya
Mike Durako
Taxi
Congratulations to these winners and all participants for making it such a successful event.
Student Patricia Durham won the grand prize in the raffle held on Friday, March 13 to celebrate the reopening of the campus swimming pool. She is the new owner of the green and white USF St. Pete beach towel. Mrs. Durham was elated at her good fortune and stated that the towel held up well and has shown no signs of fraying. Second prize went to Joanne Howard; third prize went to Byrd Holland. Congratulations to all.