C.W.S.P (College Work Study Program) INFORMATION
...FOR ST. PETERSBURG CAMPUS...

- HOW DO FACULTY AND STAFF MEMBERS EMPLOY A C.W.S.P. STUDENT?

Faculty and staff members wishing to have the services of a student assistant may notify the Financial Aid Office on the St. Petersburg Campus concerning this need. Depending upon the order in which such requests come in, the requirements for a given job, and the number of eligible students available such requests will be filled insofar as it is possible.

- HOW ARE STUDENTS SELECTED FOR C.W.S.P.?

Students who apply for financial aid and indicate employment as a priority have taken the first step toward establishing eligibility for the program. Usually only those who have observed the deadlines for application and who show financial need will receive such an award, since funds are limited.

- WHY IS IT DIFFICULT TO FIND NEW C.W.S.P. STUDENTS LATE IN THE YEAR?

When all the C.W.S.P. funds allocated to the University have been awarded to students, there can be no more such awards given out unless it becomes apparent that some students will not be using the full amount of money allotted to them. Only then can consideration be given to students who apply late.

For further information, please see Fran Seagrave in the Financial Aid Office, SPB-113, or call 893-9128.

CEC PROJECT A SUCCESS!

On April 10, 1979, the Student Council for Exceptional Children (SCEC) sponsored a materials workshop utilizing the Florida Learning Resource System (FLRS), a federal agency which serves all special educators in Pinellas County, through creative and innovative suggestions and materials for teachers. FLRS supplied the ideas, patterns, and personnel and SCEC supplied materials for the forty-five participants to make games for fun and learning.

Special credit goes to Karen Tufts, chairperson of the workshop, whose energy and enthusiasm never failed—though twice as many participants as expected showed up throughout the three hour workshop.

The workshop was opened to the campus community and the response from education and non-education students was great.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED FOR FLORIDA SPECIAL OLYMPICS

Volunteers are needed to help with the Florida Special Olympics Championship Games to be held at the University of South Florida's Tampa Campus June 8-10.

Assistance is needed for many tasks, including: chaperones, timers, scorekeepers and huggers. Those wishing to volunteer may call 974-2170 to sign up.

The Florida Special Olympics Championship Games provides some 2,000 mentally retarded persons an opportunity to compete in a variety of athletic events on a statewide basis.

This will be the second consecutive year that USF has hosted the games.

THANKS TO CAMPUS BLOOD DONORS

The St. Pete Campus produced 41 pints of blood from 50 volunteers in last Tuesday's blood drive. I want to thank each one of you for taking the time, and in many cases, having the courage, to give a pint of blood. It's a very real way of showing concern and appreciation for a community that has done a great deal for this campus.

I hope we can do better in future drives, but this has been an excellent start. You should all feel good about yourselves. I know I feel good about all of you.

Many thanks.

HONORS WEEK

MAY 21-25
Watch for details!
"Candide" to be performed by TheatreUSF

The best of all possible musical worlds comes to town in May, as Theatre USF presents Leonard Bernstein's musical masterpiece, "Candide," May 10-11 and 16-19 in the University of South Florida Theatre at 8 p.m.

A special "concert" and costumed version of "Candide" will be held May 5 in the Tampa Theatre at 8 p.m., as part of a fund-raising benefit sponsored by the USF Women's Club. This gala offers patron's cocktails and a theatre supper in the lobby of the Tampa Theatre, preceded by the production, beginning at 6:30 p.m. Patron's admission is $25. General admission tickets at $4.50 (without cocktails and supper) and student admission at $3 is also available.

Proceeds from the gala will go to USF scholarships for the performing arts, and a portion of the price for those tickets will be tax deductible. Paul Massie and Ana Beranek will direct "Candide," which has a cast of 39, headed by Mike Payton in the title role. Payton, who is well-known for his musicianship (he is a trumpeter in several jazz ensembles) is teamed with soprano Mary Diana, as his lady love, Cunegonde. Dean Tschetter who has designed some outstanding sets for previous theatre productions, will portray Voltaire.

Bruce LeBaron of the music faculty will conduct the University Orchestra for "Candide" in the Tampa Theatre and at the University Theatre. A consortium of talents combined to bring the musical life to this Voltaire classic of Candide, the innocent youth who goes through a madcap progression of adventures and misadventures to a knowing maturity. The 1956 production offered Leonard Bernstein's score and Richard Wilbur's lyrics combined with a book adapted by Lillian Hellman. Then, in 1973, a new version produced on Broadway was conceived by Hal Prince, with a new book by Hugh Wheeler, additional lyrics by Stephen Sondheim. It is this latter version which will be presented by Theatre USF.

Bill Lorenzen and Cindy Mathis have designed costumes for the production. David Williams has designed the set, aided by Marcia-Hinds-Pina, and Robert Weirzel designed lighting.

General admission to the University Theatre production is $4.50; student admission (non-USF) is $3. Free tickets are available to USF students. Tickets are now on sale for both the May 5 Tampa Theatre Gala and University Theatre performances at the Theatre Box Office (974-3233, noon-4:30 p.m., weekdays). The Tampa Theatre Box Office (223-8981) is also selling tickets to the May 5 Gala.
