12-2018

Harbor Notes : 2018 : 12

University of South Florida St. Petersburg. Office of University Advancement.

Follow this and additional works at: https://digital.usfsp.edu/harbor_notes_weekly
NEW BULL GRADUATES

Philanthropist Kate Tiedemann Joined Nearly 500 Graduates to Celebrate USF St. Petersburg's Fall Commencement

The University of South Florida St. Petersburg celebrated the accomplishments of nearly 500 graduates during its Fall Commencement ceremonies. A highlight was the bestowing of an honorary doctorate to accomplished businesswoman and local philanthropist Kate Tiedemann. READ MORE

TRAUMA-INFORMED CARE

Family Study Center Works with St. Petersburg Agencies to Provide "Trauma-Informed Care" to Infants and Families
A new initiative among caregivers throughout St. Petersburg will transform the way mental health services are delivered to infants and families by taking into effect the profound and unpredictable effects of trauma. The three-year initiative is being coordinated by the Family Study Center at USFSP and is funded by a $797,000 grant from the Foundation for a Healthy St. Petersburg. READ MORE

ENVIRONMENTAL HISTORY OF EMANCIPATION

New Book Traces the Environmental Transformation of the South due to Civil War & Emancipation

The Civil War and the emancipation of slavery not only led to political, economic and social revolutions, it also fueled drastic changes to the physical landscape of the South. That’s the subject of Dr. Erin Mauldin’s book “Unredeemed Land: An Environmental History of Civil War and Emancipation in the Cotton South.”

The book, recently published by Oxford University Press, traces the environmental changes stemming from the rural South’s transition from a pre-Civil War plantation economy to a more intensively capitalistic farming during the late nineteenth century. READ MORE

FOOD PANTRY IDEA

Students Fight Food Insecurity by Proposing Food Pantry for USFSP Campus

A student-driven initiative to establish a food pantry at USF St. Petersburg could help fend off hunger for students living with food insecurity on and off campus. Lead by undergraduates in Ingrid Brendenberg’s Leading Diverse Teams class, the proposal could see USFSP adopt a food pantry similar to Feed-A-Bull, the USF Tampa food pantry that has distributed more than 24,000 pounds of food to students in need. READ MORE

COMBATING CLIMATE CHANGE

Chemistry Professor to Gain New Insight on Climate Change by Studying the Ocean’s Spray
A chemistry professor plans to measure spray from the ocean’s waves in an attempt to unlock the secrets to fighting global climate change. Yasin Elshorbany, an Assistant Chemistry Professor and a former NASA scientist, was recently awarded part of a $800,000 grant from the National Science Foundation that will be used to collect and analyze aerosol particles from breaking waves at the Tudor Hill Marine Atmospheric Observatory in Bermuda. READ MORE

PRESTIGIOUS RANGEL FELLOW

USFSP Alumna Selected as Rangel Fellow, Second in System History

Alumna Monica Edwards has been recognized by the Charles B. Rangel International Affairs Program as a 2019 Rangel Fellow. Edwards is the second Rangel Fellow in the University of South Florida history.

Fellows receive $37,500 annually for a two-year graduate degree in a field of their choice related to the Foreign Service, paid summer internships with a member of Congress in Washington, D.C. and at embassies abroad and mentoring from senior Foreign Service Officers. READ MORE

CELEBRATING OUR VETERANS

Veteran Portrait Exhibit Celebrates Those Who Served

Award-winning combat photographer Stacy Pearsall's photos of 24 USFSP veterans are now on display at the Nelson Poynter Memorial Library through January. As an extension of Pearsall’s Veterans Portrait Project, the display showcases men and women who served the country from the Korean War to our most recent conflicts. READ MORE

USFSP IN THE NEWS

USFSP Offers Virtual Reality Training to Future Teachers

Grant Will Help Agencies Focus on Trauma-Informed Care for Children

Students Make Local African-American History More Accessible
The Enormous Public Cost of Domestic Violence

New Forensic Journal "FSI: Synergy" Aims to Get Niche