GERMAN EXPRESSIONISM EXHIBITION

"EXPRESSIONISM AND ITS LEGACY," an exhibition of German Art from 1905 to the present, will be at the Museum of Fine Arts January 19 - February 24. The exhibition contains a number of German Expressionist paintings from American collections, including works by Jawlensky, Kirchner and Schmidt-Rottluff, among others, and a large group of graphics lent by the Frankfurter Kunstkabinett.

A German Week celebration, February 10 - 17, organized by Hannes Mittermayr, Honorary German Consul General, in cooperation with the German Consul in Atlanta and the Goethe Institute, will offer at the Museum three German films and a lecture, "AMERICANS IN DUSSELDORF," by Gudmund Vigtel, Director of the High Museum, Atlanta.

The term "expressionism" was first used in the early 20th Century to describe the work of artists who shed traditional social and aesthetic values in favor of spontaneity and individual expression. The German Expressionists were contemporary with the development of Matisse and the Fauves in France. These German artists were regarded with hostility and ridicule.

The Frankfurter Kunstkabinett was founded shortly after World War II by Frau Hanna Bekker vom Rath. A supporter of Expressionism since the 1920's, Frau Bekker had attended the notorious Exhibition of Degenerate Art staged by the Nazi regime. Intended to ridicule modern art, this exhibition forced it underground. Support of Expressionism became a form of resistance to the Nazis and Frau Bekker was a leader of the movement.

In a December 1978 interview, Frau Bekker approved the title "EXPRESSIONISM AND ITS LEGACY" for this particular exhibition. Asked what she felt the Expressionists had left for today's artists, Frau Bekker answered, "the expression of the inside life, not only what is visible but also what is only felt."

The graphics are available for purchase and inquiries should be made at the Museum office. The show is partially funded by the Fine Arts Council of Florida and the National Endowment for the Arts. The Goethe Institute of Atlanta assisted financially in the production of the catalogue, which includes essays by Dr. Bradley Nickels of the University of South Florida and Joachim Cuppers, Director of the Frankfurter Kunstkabinett.

Located at 255 Beach Drive North, the Museum is open Tuesday through Saturday from 10 to 5 and on Sunday from 1 to 5. For additional information, call 896-2667 or 823-3644.

FRIDAY EVENING FILM SERIES

Oscar-winners Walter Matthau and Tatum O'Neal are teamed in Paramount Pictures' THE BAD NEWS BEARS which will be shown at 8 PM on Friday, Jan. 25 in the Auditorium as part of the Student Activities' Friday Film Series. The contemporary comedy is about the exploits of a group of bumbling misfit kids who are molded by their beer-guzzling coach into a winning baseball team.

Matthau plays the role of the coach, a broken-down ex-minor league pitcher who now works as a pool maintenance man. He. O'Neal (who won an Academy Award for her film debut in PAPER MOON) makes her second screen appearance as a hot shot pitcher with a dynamite assortment of breaking pitches, and whose skill on the mound pulls the otherwise all-male sandlot team out of the doldrums.

Directed by Michael Ritchie (DOWNHILL RACER), the comedy was written by Bill Lancaster, son of actor Burt Lancaster, and marks his screenwriting debut.

THE BAD NEWS BEARS also stars Vic Morrow and co-stars Joyce Van Patten, Ben Piazza, Jackie Earle Haley, and Alfred Lutter, and a motley assortment of young actors who appear as sandlot baseball team members, many making their film debuts in this movie.

THE BAD NEWS BEARS is buoyant, bouncing fun with as engaging a group of youngsters and screen veterans that has ever been assembled.
I. The policies and regulations contained herein are given the effect of law by Florida Statutes, Sections 239.53-239.56, which are quoted in part below:

1. "The Board of Regents shall adopt and promulgate rules and regulations which it finds necessary, convenient or advisable for the safety, welfare and health of the students, faculty members, and all other persons, governing traffic on the grounds of each institution of higher learning under its management... When promulgated, said rules and regulations shall have the force and effect of municipal ordinances of the adjacent municipality and shall be enforced as such, as herein provided. All ordinances of the adjacent municipality relating to traffic which are not in conflict with or inconsistent with the traffic rules and regulations adopted by the Board of Regents shall extend and be applicable to the grounds of the Institute of higher learning." These regulations have been recorded under the Florida State Administrative Procedures Act.
