USF/SP believes that participation in cultural and recreational activities is an integral part of a student's formal education and that constructive use of leisure time is a desirable goal.

Due to the lack of cultural and recreational resources on the St. Pete Campus, student participation in many community events is directly subsidized to compensate for these deficiencies.

Students taking the majority of hours on the St. Pete Campus will be allocated 80¢ per credit hour to be applied toward subsidization. Proof of fee payment (listing your hours) and your validated student photo I.D. are required when using your subsidy.

Eligible students must come to the Activities Office (SPE-112) to initiate ticket arrangements. Students may buy as many tickets as desired but only the allotted amount of subsidy will be deducted from the purchase. Subsidy may be used for more than one event—until the individual's portion of subsidy is depleted.

The student must pay at least $1.00 per subsidized ticket.

The Subsidization Program is conducted each session. Tickets are on sale from the first to the last day of each term. Subsidization is not available during term breaks.

Once you have used your subsidy, you may still buy tickets at our PURCHASE PRICE, which is often much lower than the regular retail price. For example:

museum of fine arts--st. petersburg

The Museum of Fine Arts, St. Petersburg, is now accepting applications for its biannual Docent Training Course to begin September 15, 1981, under the direction of the Museum's curator Dr. Marion Grayson. One of the most valuable volunteer groups within the Museum, the docents, as tour guides, not only interpret the artworks on display for both adults and children, but they also bear the responsibility for making visitors feel welcome and comfortable in the sometimes awesome museum environment. Previous art studies, while helpful, are not required for entrance into the program. The main prerequisites are a strong interest in learning about art and a sense of commitment to the role of the Museum in enhancing the quality of life in the community it serves.

The fall term of the training program consists of a formal course in the History of Art, which will meet Tuesday mornings from 10 to 12, September 15 through December 1, 1981. For those who successfully complete this course, the spring term, which runs from January 12 through March 30, 1982 will be devoted to weekly seminars on the Museum's art collections, as well as on techniques for conducting tours. Upon completing the training program and passing the qualifying examinations to become active tour guides, participants are required to be members of the Museum and to serve as docents for a minimum of two years, beginning June 1, 1982.

There is a registration fee of $20 for the training program, and purchase of the textbook used in the History of Art course is advised. The number of trainees to be admitted is limited, and those with an interest in participating should call Dr. Grayson soon at 896-2667 for further information and an interview appointment.

Graduation Celebration 1981 Honors Seniors

Graduation Celebration '81 was held on Friday, June 12, to honor members of the St. Pete Campus Class of 1981. The festivities took place at Tierra Verde and included a cocktail hour, dinner, ceremonies and live music.

Sharon Nolte, chairperson of the event, estimated that about 350 persons attended, including approximately 110 graduates.

Rae Claire Johnson, former president of Student Government, presided as primary master-of-ceremonies. Many USF administrators and faculty and staff members were also present to honor the Senior Class. Hamilton Stirling, College of Business faculty member, was the featured speaker. Dr. John Lott Brown, president of USF offered words of congratulations and best wishes.

Campus director Dr. John Hinze and Don Haney, director of administrative and student services, presented awards to Outstanding Seniors:

DIANE CHITTENDEN
VVYY CORPE
SUSAN GREGOIRE
RAE CLAIRE JOHNSON
VICTOR JOHNSON
THOMAS LITTLE JALENE MOSER
SHARON NOLTE
JOANNE PARKER
MARGARET WOODARD

Mark Thomas, president of the USF St. Pete Alumni Chapter, presented the Outstanding Graduate award to VVYY CORPE.

The Class of '81 presented awards of appreciation to dedicated staff persons in recognition of services rendered 'above and beyond' normal duties. Adelaide Waterfield, Student Affairs budget officer, and Dot Thrush, campus Bookstore, were both surprised and delighted to be recognized by the Senior Class.

On behalf of the Class of '81, Sharon Nolte gave a check to Sam Fustukjian, director of the Nelson Poynter Memorial Library, in memory of Edna Hubner who passed away last March. Mrs. Hubner was a member of the Student Affairs staff. The donation will be used to purchase books for the Library.

The program concluded with the presentation of certificates to each USF St. Pete Campus senior. Live music by 'People Like You' followed.

Congrats to the Committee who worked so diligently to put the program together!
USF Summer Theatre Season

SUMMER OF COMEDY AT USF AS SUMMER THEATRE SEASON BEGINS JULY 9

STORY SOURCE: Nancy Cole

A delightful musical spoof, two critically acclaimed comedy/dramas and a special children's show highlight 1981 Summer Theatre USF at the University of South Florida, beginning July 9.

The four-play season opens with "Little Mary Sunshine," an hilarious musical spoof of the Nelson Eddy/Jeannette MacDonald movies written by Rick Basoyan. Featuring Eve Royffe as the heroine Little Mary and Bruce Lekaron as Capt. "Big Jim" Warrington, the plot revolves around Little Mary's efforts to prevent foreclosure on the Colorado Inn, which she bought with money made from selling homemade cookies. Aiding her are Capt. Jim and a wonderfully daffy assortment of characters, including Mme. Ernestine Von Liebedich, played by Ana Beramek, and the gentile Gen. Oscar Fairfax, played by Jim Judy. Songs include "Look for A Sky of Blue" and "Colorado Love Call." A chorus of "young ladies from Eastchester Finishing School," a band of Kadota Indians and a troop of Forest Rangers round out the cast, and the show ends in a rousing finale, complete with the Stars and Stripes.

"Little Mary" is directed by Elmarie Wendel, who created the comic role of Nancy Twinkle, Mary's maid, in the original off-Broadway production, which opened in New York in 1959 and ran for several years. Henry Parrish is the choreographer and set designs are by David Williams.

"Little Mary Sunshine" opens July 9, with a preview on the 8th, and continues July 10-12, 18, 19, 23, 26, Aug. 1, 5 and 7.

On July 16, "Lu Ann Hampton Laverty Oberlander" opens. Featuring Robin Lilly as Lu Ann, the play is part of "The Texas Trilogy" by Preston Jones. Summer Theatre USF will present two of the three plays, "Lu Ann" and "The Last Meeting of the Knights of the White Magnolia." Jones conceived of the three plays as interconnected by location and characters, but with the action of each being independent of the others.

The action of "Lu Ann" and "Last Meeting," which opens July 22, takes place in the mythical west Texas town of Bradleyville. "Lu Ann" is a hearttouching comedy about the life of one woman in the town, her aspirations and her compromises, her two husbands, and the daughter she must raise on her own. It is about the American dream - the myth and the reality of that dream. Lilly, who will play Lu Ann, is a USF graduate who just received her Master of Fine Arts degree from the New York University School of the Arts.

"The Last Meeting of the Knights of the White Magnolia" is the hilarious story of the final gathering of a "white supremacy" organization. What happens when the small group tries to induct a new member makes for a riotous evening of mishaps and misunderstandings. Featured are two members of the USF theatre faculty, Jack Belt as that diehard, and slightly senile, guardian of the white community, Col. Kincaid, and Peter B. O'Sullivan as the irascible bartender, Red Grover.

"Lu Ann" previews July 15 and runs July 16, 17, 24, 30, Aug. 2 and 8.

"Last Meeting" previews July 21 and runs July 22, 25, 29, 31, Aug. 6 and 9.

"Little Mary," "Lu Ann" and "Last Meeting" will be presented in the University Theatre with performances at 8 P.M. each evening, except on Sundays, when the curtain time will be 7 P.M.

The concluding production of Summer Theatre USF '81 will be "The Revenge of the Space Pandas or Rinky Rudick and the Two-Speed Clock," a children's play by David Marnet. "Pandas," directed by Christopher Steele, concerns a boy, a girl and a sheep who end up in outer space as a result of the boy's invention — a two-speed clock. Once on the planet Crestview in the Grey Goose Nebula, they are pursued by the evil leader George Topax and the space pandas. "The Revenge of the Space Pandas" is a fast-paced, fun show suitable for the entire family. The comedy opens on July 22, with a July 29 preview, and runs Aug. 1, 2, 6, 8 and 9 in the Centre Studio Theatre, Theatre Centre building. Performances are at 7 p.m. each evening, except on Saturday and Sunday when the performance will be at 2 p.m.

Ticket prices are $12 for a season ticket, $5 single performance. For senior citizens and students, season tickets are $9, $3.50 for single performance. Single ticket price for "Space Pandas" is $1.50. Preview performance tickets are $3. Tickets for the entire season go on sale Tuesday, June 23.

For further information and reservations, call the University Theatre box office at 974-2323, noon to 4:30 P.M. Tuesdays, noon to curtain on performance days or the St. Pete Campus Activities Office (SPE-109); 893-9129.
The fantasy world of Krypton and Superman's ice palace, which he refers to as "my place," and the real world of the planet Earth is satisfying. The Comic Book world is made of flat, comic book colors and hard lines. It looks surrealistic. The Earth world, which the evil Kryptonian general mistakenly thinks is "Planet Hooston," is warmer, muzzy looking, and there is not the stiff, formal language of Krypton, but instead local jargon. The people of Krypton are rigid and stylized in their movements while the Earth people humble about.

The story is of good and evil on a grand scale and we know who's going to win, but this time Superman is up against three who have powers equal to his and the tension is more entrenched than in the first film. There is again a scene at Superman's ice palace where he makes supplication to his parents, more specifically to his father, for help and there is the religious, Christ-like feeling about Superman. He seems to be the saviour of America.

The fantasy world also encompasses a mythic structure in which Superman's powers can be taken away by his Mom if he falls in love with a mortal. If he does, he will become mortal himself. Things fall apart a bit here. How did Superman and Lois ever get back to civilization through all that snow without his super-flying? Ah, well, "Movies is Magic," as they say in History of the World, Part I.

marine science professor honored, by Geological Society
A professor at the University of South Florida St. Petersburg Campus recently was honored by the Geological Society of London with the society's highest award.

Robert M. Garrels, a professor of marine science, was awarded the Wollaston Medal May 27, 1981, at the society's annual meeting in London.

The award was in recognition of his contribution to the study of the reaction of minerals with natural waters and the determination of the variations of chemical cycles through the study of sedimentary rocks and deposits on the earth's surface.

IT'S SHOWTIME!
by NIELA ELIASON

SUPERMAN II

It's a kid's film! It's a love story! It's Superman II!
It really is better than Superman I.

There is a great deal more involvement with the characters, more of a real people feeling in this one. There are the usual Superman feats and flying, but they do not dominate the movie until the end, when they reach a crescendo.

The contrast between the fantasy world of Krypton and Superman's ice palace, which he refers to as "my place", and the real world of the planet Earth is satisfying. The Comic Book world is made of flat, comic book colors and hard lines. It looks surrealistic. The earth world, which the evil Kryptonian general mistakenly thinks is "Planet Hooston", a misnomer he got from a U.S. space ship controlled by Huston, is softer, warmer, buzzy looking, and there is not the stiff, formal language of Krypton, but instead local jargon. The people of Krypton are rigid and stylized in their movements while the earth people bumble about.

The story is of good and evil on a grand scale and we know who's going to win but this time Superman is up against three who have powers equal to his and the tension is more entrenched than in the first film. There is again a scene at Superman's ice palace where he makes supplication to his parents, more specifically to his father, for help and there is the religious, Christ-like feeling about Superman. He seems to be the saviour of America.

The fantasy world also encompasses a mythic structure in which Superman's powers can be taken away by his Mom if he falls in love with a mortal. If he does, he will become mortal himself. Things fall apart a bit here. How did Superman and Lois ever get back to civilization through all that snow without his super-flying. Ah, well, "Movies Is Magic", as they say in History of the World, Part I.

LOIS (Margot Kidder) is such a pain in the neck, it's hard to see why Clark Kent/Superman has such a crush on her. She's klutzy, dumb and not pretty. She's interested only in hamburgers and orange juice and, of course, Superman. Even in the bedroom scene at Superman's place she is awkward and wobbles around like a cowboy. She cares nothing about Clark Kent, whose weakness, naivete and shyness are endearing. Christopher Reeve plays the part well, switching from Clark Kent to Superman easily. They are the same, but different. Kent is the more likable, with human faults and feelings, while Superman is too perfect.

Lex Luther (Gene Hackman) and his side-kick, Otis (Ned Beatty) are comic. Otis disappears too soon. They were more fun as a pair, but there is a lot of humor and wise cracking in the film. The criminals from Krypton are properly evil and appropriately dressed and made up in black, even the fingernails, in case you have trouble knowing who the bad guys are.

The film has fantasy, reality, comedy, tension, romance, action, magic, and so on.
heroes and villains. It's well balanced and has more substance than the first film, more depth to the characters and more comedy and this is what makes it move. This may be due to the fact that Richard Donner directed the first film, but was replaced by Richard Lester in the second.

Both you and your kids will enjoy it. I give it a seven on a scale of ten.

It's playing at the Fifth Avenue Cinema and it is rated PG. Discount tickets are on sale at the Activities Office (SPE-112).
