5-11-1981

Crow's Nest : 1981 : 05 : 11

University of South Florida St. Petersburg.
DEAN'S HONOR LIST (continued from page 7)

Sheffield, Richard Win
Shell, Sandra Moore
Sikorska, Daniel Mark
Slonim, Mark Alan
Soldwedel, Darla Anne
Spencer, Kathryn P.
Sullivan, James Gerald
Sullivan, Mary-Catherine C.
Szczerbaty, Wladiam
Thomas, Dennis Keith
Thompson, Marilyn G.
Todsen, Gay Moore
Tompkins, Jack
Toole, William P.
Treder, Robert Keith
Trzesniowski, Lorraine F.
Walden, Lowell Madison
Weber, Marcia E.
West, Michelle Lynn
White, Keith Douglas
Wilt, Laura Osborn
Worthington, Ann R.

POOR-PUPIL'S PUB

OPEN FOR BUSINESS MAY 11-14 from 5 - 7 PM

LOW COST MENU:
- Monday Cuban Sandwich and chips
- Tuesday Roast Beef Sandwich and potato salad
- Wednesday Beer cheese soup
- Thursday Ham and swiss sandwich with cole slaw and pickle

Assorted beverages available

SILENT MOVIES

MUSIC

Poor Pupil's Pub is located in SPE-108, adjacent to the Lobby.

DEDICATION WEEK

Governor Bob Graham and Dr. Barbara Newell, the new chancellor of the State University System of Florida, are among speakers and other special guests expected to participate in the formal dedication of the first new buildings at the University of South Florida at St. Petersburg on May 16.

The ceremony will begin at 10:00 AM outside at the site of the new buildings on the waterfront.

The Nelson Poynter Memorial Library and Bayboro Hall are the two buildings being dedicated. The Library is being named for the late Nelson Poynter, long-time USF supporter, former president of the Times Publishing Co. and publisher of the St. Petersburg Times and Evening Independent. Bayboro Hall takes its name from the harbor on which it is located. The two buildings and a third air conditioning plant building are the first in a multi-million dollar St. Petersburg Campus Expansion Program which is expected to add thirteen new buildings to the campus by 2000.

Governor Graham will be the featured speaker at the dedication. Newell will officially dedicate the new facility. John B. Lake, publisher of the St. Petersburg Times and Evening Independent, will comment on the Nelson Poynter Library.

Other remarks will be brought by representatives from the various groups which have been instrumental in expanding the St. Petersburg Campus. These include Harriet Deer, Campus Faculty Advisory Committee member; Rae Claire Johnson, Student Government president; Mayor Corinne Freeman, City of St. Petersburg; MacDonnell Tyre, St. Petersburg Progress, Inc.; Senator John Ware, Pinellas County Legislative Delegation; and Terrell Sessums Florida Board of Regents member.

USF officials on the program will include Dr. John Lott Brown, president;
Dr. James B. Heck, dean of regional campuses; Dr. John Hinz, campus director; and Dr. Lester Tuttle, the first head of USF at St. Petersburg.

Elder Clarence Welch, pastor of Prayer Tower Church, will bring the invocation and benediction. An R.O.T.C. honor guard will lead the national anthem and provide a brass fanfare.

Following the dedication ceremony, there will be a open house on the St. Petersburg Campus (until 4 PM). This will feature exhibits, guided tours of the new buildings and live music.

UPD ATE

The USF St. Pete Chapter of the Student Council for Exceptional Children (SCE) is the proud recipient of the national 1981 State Membership Award. The award honors the chapter for having the greatest increase in membership in the national organization during the last year. Congratulations to club president Peggy Paynes, membership chairman Adrienne Sentoweski, and faculty advisors Dr. Ralph Cline and Dr. Eleanor Guetzloe!

Congratulations, CELEBRATION OF LITERATURE coordinators! Well done!

Thanks to all members of the campus community who supported the recent used book sale sponsored by the USF St. Pete Women's Organization. Close to $200 was netted and will be contributed to the Book Scholarship Fund for St. Pete Campus students. Contact the Activities Office for book scholarship applications.

HONORS WEEK is May 18-23. Honors events schedule will be available on Wednesday, May 13, at the Activities Office (SPE-112). All members of the campus community are invited to attend the programs honoring outstanding St. Pete Campus students.

THANK YOU, DR. LES T E R T U T TLE!
After World War II, activities lessened at Bayboro, but the Maritime Training Station continued to operate. After an "on-again, off-again" struggle in the U.S. Congress, the Station was finally closed on March 31, 1950, for lack of operating funds. For four years the Station remained unused.

Early in 1954, then City Manager Ross Windon began negotiations with the Federal government for the lease or purchase of the Maritime Station. St. Petersburg was offered a free lease for one year—with the stipulation that the facility had to be used for educational or public welfare purposes.

From 1954-64, the Maritime Base complex was occupied in turn by three electronic industries, City and State laboratories, a civic arts and crafts school, the Pinellas County Health Department and the County School System units, sail and furniture makers, and Florida Presbyterian College (now known as Eckerd College and located on 34th Street S.).

The Florida Board of Regents authorized the University of South Florida to extend its operations by providing courses in St. Petersburg. The first university classes were offered for resident freshmen students—at the Bayboro facility in 1965.

By 1966-67, the St. Pete campus served as USF Continuing Education headquarters and no longer serviced resident students. The new concept was to augment the local Junior College program, enabling students to pursue their higher education while living and working in their home town environment. Twenty-three courses were offered at the undergraduate level in the colleges of engineering, education and business administration.

The Marine Science Department began as a two-year program sponsored by the Bureau of Fisheries in 1965. Participants studied the effects of pesticides on marine life. The Marine Science program was formally organized in 1967-68. In October 1967, the Florida Institute of Oceanography was established and housed in facilities at Bayboro, leased from USF.

The USF St. Petersburg Campus, as we know it today, actually began in Quarter I, 1968-69. There were 629 students enrolled in upper division and graduate courses. The campus Library contained 2,248 volumes.

Recognizing the ever-increasing potential of the USF St. Petersburg Campus as an educational resource, land for the St. Petersburg Campus Expansion Program was acquired and donated to the State by the City of St. Petersburg with the assistance of St. Petersburg Progess, Inc., a group of private citizens involved in the development of downtown St. Petersburg.

The official groundbreaking ceremony for the long-awaited new facilities was held on June 15, 1978. Construction began in the Fall of that year. By April 1981, Bayboro Hall and the Nelson Poynter Memorial Library were in full usage.

But this is only the beginning. The new buildings are part of Phase I of a multi-million dollar project which is expected to add thirteen buildings to the St. Petersburg Campus by 2000!
UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH FLORIDA
ST. PETERSBURG CAMPUS
DEDICATION WEEK

Sunday, May 10, 3:00 P.M.
The Nelson Poynter Memorial Library presents
Pauline Atherton Cochran, University of Syracuse, speaking on "Competitive Cooperation: Impact of Technology on Libraries"
Open House of Library following

Monday, May 11, 7:30 PM
The College of Education presents
Dr. Roger W. Nichols, Deputy Commissioner of Education, State of Florida, speaking on "The Politics of Education"

Tuesday, May 12, 7:30 PM
The College of Arts and Letters presents
Russell B. Nye, Distinguished Professor, University of Michigan, speaking on "What Good is the Past?"

Wednesday, May 13, Noon
The College of Business presents
Dr. Richard Rahn, Chief Economist and Vice-President, United States Chamber of Commerce, speaking on "Supply-Side Economics"

7:30 PM
Mr. James Rosenquist, Artist, speaking on "The Business of Art"

Thursday, May 14, 7:30 PM
The College of Social and Behavioral Sciences presents
J. F. Mayer, University of Reading, England, speaking on "Mars and Toquerville"

Friday, May 15, 10:00 AM
The Department of Marine Science presents
Dr. Harold J. Hunt speaking on "Marine Science at USF: Past, Present and Future"
Open House for the remainder of the day

Saturday, May 16, 10:00 AM
Dedication Ceremony (on campus lawn facing the water)
Dedication of the Nelson Poynter Memorial Library and Bayboro Hall
11:30 - 4:00 PM
Campus-wide Open House
Student led tours of new buildings, steel drum band, refreshments and exhibits

• ALL EVENTS WILL BE HELD IN BAYBORO HALL, ROOM 110 (140 Seventh Avenue S., St. Petersburg)

• RECEPTION AND REFRESHMENTS WILL FOLLOW EACH EVENT

• FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

YOU ARE CORDIALLY INVITED TO SHARE IN OUR CELEBRATION!

Ake, David Eliot
Alexanderwicz, MaryEllen G.
Allen, James Robert
Allyn, Jan
Amburn, Gigi V. Van Keuren
Artilles, Russell Ellis
Auman, Patricia S.
Bainbridge, James R.
Baker, William F. III
Barfield, Faye Withington
Barr, James Francis
Barthel, Thomas E.
Baxter, Katherine Adele
Beimborn, Dawn Marie
Bilington, Robert B.
Bishoff, Robert Amile
Bodnar, Gary Michael
Bottichio, Thomas A.
Calhoon, Toni S.
Cheek, Lennette Sheree
Chittenden, Helen Diane
Christiansen, Marcia P.
Cleapor, Cheryl Nicholson
Cleveland, Norma Jean
Coleman, Jacqueline Elaine
Corpe, Vyvy Alice
Costello, Laurisse Blair
Costello, Susannah Gilbert
Culbertson, Edward Lloyd
Davis, Janet Lynne Spahn
Denny, Suzanne Mahoney
Dillon, Vicki Hocks
Eaton, Christopher Clark
Esker, Martha B.
Eustis, Kathy Jane Forsyth
Ewers, Larree L.
Fitts, Emily Elizabeth
Fitz-Henley, Sally Hughes
Floyd, Rondena Jean
Gardner, Barbara Smith
Gardner, Glenda Dorsey
Gettig, Brenda J.

DEAN'S HONOR LIST - Quarter II, 1981

-7-
DEAN'S HONOR LIST (continued from page 7)

Sheffield, Richard W.          Todsen, Gay Moore
Shell, Sandra M.              Tompkins, Jack
Sikorba, Daniel Mark          Toole, William P.
Slonim, Mark A.               Treder, Robert Keith
Soldwedel, Daria A.           Trzesniewski, Lorraine F.
Spencer, Kathryn P.           Vienuzis, Paul Thomas
Stefanovic, Maryann Louise    Walden, Lowell Madison
Sullivan, James G.            Weber, Marcia E.
Sullivan, Mary Catherine C.   West, Michelle Lynn
Szczersaty, William           White, Keith Douglas
Thomas, Dennis K.             Woltil, Laura Osborn
Thompson, Marilyn G.          Wothington, Ann R.

*POOR*PUPIL'S*
PUBL

OPEN FOR BUSINESS      MAY 11-14
from 5 - 7 PM

LOW COST MENU:
* Monday       Cuban Sandwich and chips
* Tuesday      Roast Beef Sandwich and potato salad
* Wednesday    Beer cheese soup
* Thursday     Ham and swiss sandwich with cole slaw and pickle

Assorted beverages available

SILENT MOVIES

MUSIC

Poor Pupil's Pub is located in SPE-108, adjacent to the Lobby.

CROW'S NEST

UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH FLORIDA
St. Petersburg Campus

May 11, 1981
Vol. 12, No. 10

DEDICATION WEEK

Governor Bob Graham and Dr. Barbara Newell, the new chancellor of the State University System of Florida, are among speakers and other special guests expected to participate in the formal dedication of the first new buildings at the University of South Florida at St. Petersburg on May 16.

The ceremony will begin at 10:00 AM outside at the site of the new buildings on the waterfront.
The Nelson Poynter Memorial Library and Bayboro Hall are the two buildings being dedicated. The Library is being named for the late Nelson Poynter, long-time USF supporter, former president of the Times Publishing Co. and publisher of the St. Petersburg Times and Evening Independent. Bayboro Hall takes its name from the harbor on which it is located. The two buildings and a third air conditioning plant building are the first in a multi-million dollar St. Petersburg Campus Expansion Program which is expected to add thirteen new buildings to the campus by 2000.

Governor Graham will be the featured speaker at the dedication. Newell will officially dedicate the new facility. John B. Lake, publisher of the St. Petersburg Times and Evening Independent, will comment on the Nelson Poynter Library.

Other remarks will be brought by representatives from the various groups which have been instrumental in expanding the St. Petersburg Campus. These include Harriet Deer, Campus Faculty Advisory Committee member; Rae Claire Johnson, Student Government president; Mayor Corinne Freeman, City of St. Petersburg; MacDonnell Tyre, St. Petersburg Progress, Inc.; Senator John Ware, Pinellas County Legislative Delegation; and Terrell Sessums, Florida Board of Regents member.

USF officials on the program will include Dr. John Lott Brown, president; Dr. James B. Heck, dean of regional campuses; Dr. John Hinz, campus director; and Dr. Lester Tuttle, the first head of USF at St. Petersburg.

Elder Clarence Welch, pastor of Prayer Tower Church, will bring the invocation and benediction. An R.O.T.C. honor guard will lead the national anthem and provide a brass fanfare.

Following the dedication ceremony, there will be a reception and continuous open house on the St. Petersburg Campus (until 4 PM). This will feature exhibits, guided tours of the new buildings and live music.

=================================UPDATE==================================

The USF St. Pete Chapter of the Student Council for Exceptional Children (SCE) is the proud recipient of the national 1981 State Membership Award. The award honors the chapter for having the greatest increase in membership in the national organization during the last year. Congratulations to club president Peggy Haynes, membership chairman Adrienne Sentowski, and faculty advisors Dr. Ralph Cline and Dr. Eleanor Guetzloe!

***

Congratulations, CELEBRATION OF LITERATURE coordinators! Well done!

***

Thanks to all members of the campus community who supported the recent used book sale sponsored by the USF St. Pete Women’s Organization. Close to $200 was netted and will be contributed to the Book Scholarship Fund for St. Pete Campus students. Contact the Activities Office for book scholarship information.
HONORS WEEK is May 18-23. Honors events schedule will be available on Wednesday, May 13, at the Activities Office (SPE-112). All members of the campus community are invited to attend the programs honoring outstanding St. Pete Campus students.

THANK YOU, DR. LESTER TUTTLE!

The History of Bayboro

compiled by Jean Dempsey

Eighty years ago, Bayboro Harbor was called "Fiddlers' Paradise," a mud flat mecca for thousands of fiddler crabs.

Until the Bayboro Investment Company was organized by C.A. Harvey in 1904, St. Petersburg's possibilities for growth to the southward area were cut off by a wide swamp through which Salt and Booker Creeks found their way to the Bay. C.A. Harvey's plan was to buy up all the swamp lands south of the city and reclaim them, dredging out a harbor and making valuable land. The plans of the company depended upon the acceptance by the city of St. Petersburg to approve this as its commercial harbor. There was controversy between various groups. Some objected to the potential commercialism of the waterfront, while others held out for a beautification project only. In order to obtain the harbor, it was essential that the city receive Federal government aid. It was not until 1912 that the U.S. government appropriated $32,000 for the dredging of Bayboro Harbor. In 1914, the work was started.

In November of 1925, the Port of St. Petersburg was finally opened. Bayboro Harbor was in business. Due to a railroad embargo, the new basin churned with activity for several months as ships brought in badly needed building materials to the growing city. Then, the doldrums set in for awhile.

During Prohibition and the Great Boom, enterprising rum-runners brought new life to the struggling port, new life in the form of Uncle Sam's Coast Guard Base 21. The Base was to form the nucleus of a whole cluster of Federal services later on.

During the height of the Coast Guard's anti-smuggling and anti-rum-running patrols, the service took over 25 destroyers of World War I vintage. By the late 1920's, no less than 45 vessels were operating out of Base 21 in hot pursuit of illegal Chinese rum and Canadian spirits. Bootleggers were thrown out of work in 1933 by the repeal of Prohibition. The Coast Guard Base was then de-commissioned.

As World War II began, the Base was re-opened. It was used by the U.S. Maritime Service for training operations for two years while the permanent station site was being built. On July 21, 1941, the Big Station (Buildings A and B today) was placed in commission—just as Nazi "wolf-pack" subs were creating a desperate need for trained seamen. During 1943-44, over a thousand officers and men were busy training young seamen. In all, 25,000 men trained here during the hectic wartime years.

(continued on page 4)
THE HISTORY OF BAYBORO (continued from page 3)

After World War II, activities lessened at Bayboro, but the Maritime Training Station continued to operate. After an "on-again, off-again" struggle in the U.S. Congress, the Station was finally closed on March 31, 1950, for lack of operating funds. For four years the Station remained unused.

Early in 1954, then City Manager Ross Windom began negotiations with the Federal government for the lease or purchase of the Maritime Station. St. Petersburg was offered a free lease for one year--with the stipulation that the facility had to be used for educational or public welfare purposes.

From 1954-64, the Maritime Base complex was occupied in turn by three electronic industries, City and State laboratories, a civic arts and crafts school, the Pinellas County Health Department and the County School System Units, sail and furniture makers, and Florida Presbyterian College (now known as Eckerd College and located on 34th Street S.).

The Florida Board of Regents authorized the University of South Florida to extend its operations by providing courses in St. Petersburg. The first university classes were offered for resident freshmen students--at the Bayboro facility in 1965.

By 1966-67, the St. Pete campus served as USF Continuing Education headquarters and no longer serviced resident students. The new concept was to augment the local Junior College program, enabling students to pursue their higher education while living and working in their home town environment. Twenty-three courses were offered at the undergraduate level in the colleges of engineering, education and business administration.

The Marine Science Department began as a two-year program sponsored by the Bureau of Fisheries in 1965. Participants studied the effects of pesticides on marine life. The Marine Science program was formally organized in 1967-68. In October 1967, the Florida Institute of Oceanography was established and housed in facilities at Bayboro, leased from USF.

The USF St. Petersburg Campus, as we know it today, actually began in Quarter I, 1968-69. There were 629 students enrolled in upper division and graduate courses. The campus Library contained 2,248 volumes.

Recognizing the ever-increasing potential of the USF St. Petersburg Campus as an educational resource, land for the St. Petersburg Campus Expansion Program was acquired and donated to the State by the City of St. Petersburg with the assistance of St. Petersburg Progress, Inc., a group of private citizens involved in the development of downtown St. Petersburg.

The official groundbreaking ceremony for the long-awaited new facilities was held on June 15, 1978. Construction began in the Fall of that year. By April 1981, Bayboro Hall and the Nelson Poynter Memorial Library were in full usage.

Page 4
But this is only the beginning. The new buildings are part of Phase I of a multi-million dollar project which is expected to add thirteen buildings to the St. Petersburg Campus by 2000!

***

Special thanks for assistance with this compilation and "THE HISTORY OF BAYBORO" photo exhibit in the Lobby of Bayboro Hall to:

Everett Leonard, Director of the St. Petersburg Historical Society Museum

Sandy Styles and James Scoffield, St. Petersburg Times

Beverly Buggle, Public Information Service, St. Petersburg

PLUS...PLUS...PLUS...PLUS...PLUS...PLUS...PLUS...

PLUS is the Nelson Poynter Memorial Library's Personalized Library Use Service. Meet with a Librarian one-on-one to plan a research strategy for that term paper, speech or thesis. Ask at the reference desk for an appointment!

SWIMMING POOL - RECREATION CENTER NOW OPEN

The USF St. Pete Swimming Pool opened on April 25. All members of the campus community may swim daily (except Wednesdays) from 11 AM - 7 PM. Family and guests are permitted (limit - two additional guests). Contact the Activities Office for further information.

-- 6 --

UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH FLORIDA
ST. PETERSBURG CAMPUS
DEDICATION WEEK

Sunday, May 10, 3:00 PM
The Nelson Poynter Memorial Library presents Pauline Atherton Cochrane, University of Syracuse, speaking on "Competitive Cooperation: Impact of Technology on Libraries" Open House of Library following

Monday, May 11, 7:30 PM
The College of Education presents Dr. Roger M. Nichols, Deputy Commissioner of Education, State of Florida, speaking on "The Politics of Education"

Tuesday, May 12, 7:30 PM
The College of Arts and Letters presents Russell B. Nye, Distinguished Professor, University of Michigan, speaking on "What Good is the Past?"

Wednesday, May 13, Noon
The College of Business presents
Dr. Richard Rahn, Chief Economist and Vice-President, United States Chamber of Commerce, speaking on "Supply-Side Economics" 7:30 PM

Mr. James Rosenquist, Artist, speaking on "The Business of Art" Thursday, May 14, 7:30 PM

J. P. Mayer, University of Reading, England, speaking on "Marx and Tocqueville" Thursday, May 14

The Department of Marine Science presents Dr. Harold J. Humm speaking on "Marine Science at Past, Present and Future" Open House for the remainder of the day Friday, May 15, 10:00 AM

J. P. Mayer, University of Reading, England, speaking on "Marx and Tocqueville" Friday, May 15, 10:00 AM

The College of Social and Behavioral Sciences presents The Department of Marine Science presents Dr. Harold J. Humm speaking on "Marine Science at Past, Present and Future" Open House for the remainder of the day Thursday, May 14, 7:30 PM

Dr. Harold J. Humm speaking on "Marine Science at USF: Past, Present and Future" Open House for the remainder of the day Friday, May 15, 10:00 AM

Dedication Ceremony (on campus lawn facing the water) Saturday, May 16, 10:00 AM

Dedication of the Nelson Poynter Memorial Library and Bayboro Hall 11:30 - 4:00 PM

Campus-wide Open House Student led tours of new buildings, steel drum band, refreshments and exhibits Saturday, May 16, 10:00 AM

* ALL EVENTS WILL BE HELD IN BAYBORO HALL, ROOM 130 (140 Seventh Avenue S., St. Petersburg)

* RECEPTION AND REFRESHMENTS WILL FOLLOW EACH EVENT

* FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

YOU ARE CORDIALLY INVITED TO SHARE IN OUR CELEBRATION!

DEAN'S HONOR LIST - Quarter II, 1981

Bottichio, Thomas A.
Calhoon, Toni S.
Cheek, Lennette Sheree
Chittenden, Helen Diane
Christiansen, Marcia F.
Class, Thomas Michael
Cleapor, Cheryl Nicholson
Cleveland, Norma Jean
Coleman, Jacqueline Elaine
Corpe, Vyvy Alice
Costello, Laurise Blair
Costello, Susannah Gilbert
Culbertson, Edward Lloyd
Davis, Janet Lynne Spahn
Denny, Suzanne Mahoney
Dillon, Vicki Hocks
Eaton, Christopher Clark
Esker, Martha B.
Eustis, Kathy Jane Forsyth
Ewers, Laree L.
Fitts, Emily Elizabeth
Fitz-Henley, Sally Hughes
Floyd, Rondena Jean
Gardner, Barbara Smith
Gardner, Glenda Dorsey
Gettig, Brenda J.

Little, Thomas Arthur
Luce, Nancy Ann Espersen
MacMichael, Donald Carl
Malecot, Lori L.
Matthews, David Harley
Mazoochi, Mohammad
McCorkel, Sandra Irene Hoo
McCrary, Madelyn Sally
McDavid, Terea Elizabeth
McGee, Stephen
McGinty, Catherine Mary
Metallo, Frank P.
Metcalf, Sandra Lynn
Mitchell, Priscilla T.
Mixon, Mary G.
Morris, Jean H.
Moutinho, Elizabeth
Nelson, Kim Allen
Newman, Rebecca Carver
Oliver, Steven Randall
Owen, John Wright
Pages, Mary L.
Passmore, Cheryl Renae
Ricker, Amy Hackbarth
Saltz, Karen Cooper
Shaw, Linda Garrett

(continued on page 8)