FRIDAY EVENING FILM SERIES FREE

WOMAN IN LOVE

based on the novel by D.H. LAWRENCE

DIRECTED BY KEN RUSSELL
STARRING GLENDA JACKSON, OLIVER REED, ALAN BATES, JENNIE LINDEN

Two sisters, sexually mature and intellectually active, struggle against the confines of a rural English mining town and its rigidly classed layers of society, and around them D.H. Lawrence weaves one of his best studies of sexual uneness and doubt. The more placid sister becomes engaged to a local school teacher, a man who longs for true spiritual companionship with everyone and represents Lawrence himself. The other sister has a tangled relationship with the son of the mine owner.

ACADEMY AWARD
BEST ACTRESS: GLENDA JACKSON

This latest screen interpretation of a D. H. Lawrence work is a beautiful film, its beauty glowing far beyond the surface. What is relevant to the film is its intensity, the saturation cinematography Kramer and Ken Russell, the director, have provided in a specific time and place so that universality of human behavior and its contemporary significance gather throughout. It is difficult to recall another film that so successfully recreated the past with a depth that brings to life every album snapshot we have seen of the time.
