FRIDAY EVENING FILM SERIES PRESENTS

BLUE WATER, WHITE DEATH

The Great White Shark Cinema Center Films, directed by Peter Gimbel
A National General Release
Color; Rated G, Rated A-1; 100 minutes

Why does anyone in his right mind go looking for the biggest, most well-armed and aggressive cold-blooded animal in the sea? Because men in today's curious BLUE WATER, WHITE DEATH follow an incredible story of four divers and their around-the-world quest for the Great White Shark, the world's deadliest cold-blooded predator. The expedition took approximately six months and covered more than 15,000 miles, including underwater locations in Ceylon, South Africa and Australia. "Spectacular, fascinating...BLUE WATER, WHITE DEATH is a worthwhile movie" - Robert Klein, Reviews, "Blue Water, White Death...a superb production" - filmcritic, "WHITE DEATH...an exciting story" - N. Y. TIMES. "Captivating..." - TIME MAGAZINE.

PROGRAM V
"FROM CAKEWALK TO RAGTIME: SEDALIA TO N.Y."
JOHN W. PARKER, JR.
The chronological development of ragtime from the riverboat shuffle to the Tin Pan Alley degeneration in the 1920's, whenever commercial jazz displaced the classic rags. Will show how urban jazz is a combination of Missouri ragtime and Mississippi blues. Will illustrate how American rustic dance rhythms and country blues tonalities have been merged in a megapolislil exploitation of nostalgia.

JOHN W. PARKER, JR., Ed.D., Associate Professor of English, began his musical career as a staff pianist at radio station WBAP, Fort Worth, Texas, playing radio programs and recording with the Light Crust Doughboys (Vocalion, Columbia), and Bill Boyd's Cowboy Ramblers (Bluebird, Victor) from 1935 to 1942. Since 1950 Dr. Parker has recorded for London, Paramount, Riverside, Audophile, and Concert Disc among others, and has played concerts throughout America and in England and France.

DATES: Friday, November 1, 1:30-3:30 p.m., USF St. Petersburg Campus

Are your clothes fitting a little too tight these days? Do you want to lose a few pounds in preparation for the holiday season? Do you have a weight problem that you'd like to do something about?

Then sign up for the DIET CLUB. We'll meet once a week for a general discussion, set our goals, and help each other in that endless struggle to stay trim. Don't be shy, Confidentiality assured. Stop by the Activities Office pronto.

ORETTE LOVEY
THE INFAMOUS "WATER BUFFALOES" are still UNDEFEATED IN WATER VOLLEYBALL AFTER WHIPPING ECKERD COLLEGE 3-out-of-5 on Sunday.

CONGRATS, BOB HALL, on your stamina! No cigs for almost THREE WEEKS now!

Thanks, REGIS FACTOR, for providing the Candidates on campus this week.

We're back from OUTWARD BOUND SCHOOL in NORTH CAROLINA...terrific, to say the least. Contact the Activities Office for details.

What bespectacled North Carolinian is heard to mutter "hey"?
HALLOWEEN HISTORY

The observances connected to Halloween are believed to have originated among the ancient Druids who accepted the notion that on that evening Saman, the lord of the dead, called forth hosts of evil spirits. The Druids customarily lit huge fires on Hallowmas, apparently to ward off these spirits. Among the ancient Celts, Halloween was the last evening of the year, and was regarded as a proper time for examining the portents of the future. The Celts also believed that the spirits of the dead revisited their earthly homes on that night. After their conquest of Britain, the Romans added to the Halloween traditions some features of the Roman festival held on Nov. 1 in honor of Pomona, goddess of fruits of the trees.

The Celtic tradition of lighting fires exists in today's Halloween celebrations and is part of the concept of ghosts and witches myths. Traces of the Roman harvest festival survive British and American customs of playing games involving fruit: ducking for apples in a tub of water, decorative use of pumpkins to resemble grotesque faces and lit candles inside the hallowed-out gourd.

The name HALLOWEEN is derived from the fact that it precedes the Christian feast of Hallowmas, ALLHALLOWS, or All Saints day.
