3-23-1992

Crow's Nest: 1992:03:23

University of South Florida St. Petersburg.

Follow this and additional works at: https://digital.usfsp.edu/crows_nest

Recommended Citation
https://digital.usfsp.edu/crows_nest/223
Stallions Top Bulls?
It's All in Your Head

By Dennis "Deadeye" Hans
Crow's Nest Correspondent

Editor's Note: The USF Bulls really spent the weekend participating in the first round of the NCAA Basketball Tournament in Boise, ID. We salute their efforts and offer no offense to Coach Bobby Paschal and the rest of the Bulls. This game, apparently like a professional baseball team coming to the Tampa Bay area, took place in the writer's mind.

Add the names of Paul "Mugsy" Douglas and Jack Kidinger to the roster of dynamic duos. If you think Batman and Robin, Pancho and Lefty, and Thelma and Louise have anything on these guys, you weren't at the Suncoast Dome Sunday for the St. Pete Stallions 97-89 victory over the USF Bulls.

Ace playmaker Douglas ran rings around Radenko Dobras, penetrating at will for 16 points and 14 assists, while Kidinger--looking remarkably spry for his 51 years--scored and head-faked his way to a game-high 31 points.

The Bulls could draw no closer than eight points in the second half. Everytime they made a run, Tom Greene would bury a three-pointer, eliciting cries of "That's my Tommy," from a devoted admirer.

Paschal was magnanimous in defeat. "Anytime you stay close to the Stallions for 40 minutes you've accomplished something," he said. "This is a game we can build on."

When asked to comment on his hot hand, high scorer Kidinger told the correspondent for the Craw's Nest: "Get outta my way, punk. I gotta gig to get to."

(Kidinger is a guitarist for the The Icthyologists, a local psychedelic band with a chart-climbing single, "Listen to the Flower People.")

Which brings me to this week's editorial comment: Success has gone to the heads of more than a few Stallions. Let us never forget that a true champion acts with dignity off as well as on the court.

Success continued on page 2

Spring Break Update

By Marty Tschiderer
Crow's Nest Editor

A lot has happened since Spring Break last week. Here is a brief list:

* The search for a permanent Dean for the St. Petersburg campus continues. The list of candidates has been narrowed to three. They are Dr. Patricia Cummins, Dean of the College of Arts and Humanities at Buffalo State College; Dr. H. William Heller, Dean of the College of Education and Allied Professions at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte; and Dr. James Foster, Dean of Arts, Sciences, and Letters at the University of Michigan at Dearborn. Cummins and Heller have met the USF university community once already, while Foster has not yet been interviewed.
* The search to fill the position of Director of Development and University Relations appears to be nearly concluded. The top three candidates are: Catherine M. Baumbach, Director of Development, Corporations and Foundations at Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's

Symposium a Success

The ten day Symposium on Spain was declared a great success and great fun by those who attended. Featuring a wide variety of lectures, films, events and various opportunities to sample the delicious foods of Spain, the Symposium offered something for everyone.

A highlight of the Symposium was the Spanish Fiesta held in the CAC on Friday evening, March 6. Catered by the Columbia Restaurant, diners had a

Success continued on page 2

Georgetown defeats Bulls in Tournament

By Marty Tschiderer
Crow's Nest Editor

A lot has happened since Spring Break last week. Here is a brief list:

* The search for a permanent Dean for the St. Petersburg campus continues. The list of candidates has been narrowed to three. They are Dr. Patricia Cummins, Dean of the College of Arts and Humanities at Buffalo State College; Dr. H. William Heller, Dean of the College of Education and Allied Professions at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte; and Dr. James Foster, Dean of Arts, Sciences, and Letters at the University of Michigan at Dearborn. Cummins and Heller have met the USF university community once already, while Foster has not yet been interviewed.

* The search to fill the position of Director of Development and University Relations appears to be nearly concluded. The top three candidates are: Catherine M. Baumbach, Director of Development, Corporations and Foundations at Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's

Symposium a Success

The ten day Symposium on Spain was declared a great success and great fun by those who attended. Featuring a wide variety of lectures, films, events and various opportunities to sample the delicious foods of Spain, the Symposium offered something for everyone.

A highlight of the Symposium was the Spanish Fiesta held in the CAC on Friday evening, March 6. Catered by the Columbia Restaurant, diners had a

Success continued on page 2

Georgetown defeats Bulls in Tournament

By Marty Tschiderer
Crow's Nest Editor

A lot has happened since Spring Break last week. Here is a brief list:

* The search for a permanent Dean for the St. Petersburg campus continues. The list of candidates has been narrowed to three. They are Dr. Patricia Cummins, Dean of the College of Arts and Humanities at Buffalo State College; Dr. H. William Heller, Dean of the College of Education and Allied Professions at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte; and Dr. James Foster, Dean of Arts, Sciences, and Letters at the University of Michigan at Dearborn. Cummins and Heller have met the USF university community once already, while Foster has not yet been interviewed.

* The search to fill the position of Director of Development and University Relations appears to be nearly concluded. The top three candidates are: Catherine M. Baumbach, Director of Development, Corporations and Foundations at Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's

Symposium a Success

The ten day Symposium on Spain was declared a great success and great fun by those who attended. Featuring a wide variety of lectures, films, events and various opportunities to sample the delicious foods of Spain, the Symposium offered something for everyone.

A highlight of the Symposium was the Spanish Fiesta held in the CAC on Friday evening, March 6. Catered by the Columbia Restaurant, diners had a

Success continued on page 2

Georgetown defeats Bulls in Tournament

By Marty Tschiderer
Crow's Nest Editor

A lot has happened since Spring Break last week. Here is a brief list:

* The search for a permanent Dean for the St. Petersburg campus continues. The list of candidates has been narrowed to three. They are Dr. Patricia Cummins, Dean of the College of Arts and Humanities at Buffalo State College; Dr. H. William Heller, Dean of the College of Education and Allied Professions at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte; and Dr. James Foster, Dean of Arts, Sciences, and Letters at the University of Michigan at Dearborn. Cummins and Heller have met the USF university community once already, while Foster has not yet been interviewed.

* The search to fill the position of Director of Development and University Relations appears to be nearly concluded. The top three candidates are: Catherine M. Baumbach, Director of Development, Corporations and Foundations at Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's

Symposium a Success

The ten day Symposium on Spain was declared a great success and great fun by those who attended. Featuring a wide variety of lectures, films, events and various opportunities to sample the delicious foods of Spain, the Symposium offered something for everyone.

A highlight of the Symposium was the Spanish Fiesta held in the CAC on Friday evening, March 6. Catered by the Columbia Restaurant, diners had a

Success continued on page 2

Georgetown defeats Bulls in Tournament

By Marty Tschiderer
Crow's Nest Editor

A lot has happened since Spring Break last week. Here is a brief list:

* The search for a permanent Dean for the St. Petersburg campus continues. The list of candidates has been narrowed to three. They are Dr. Patricia Cummins, Dean of the College of Arts and Humanities at Buffalo State College; Dr. H. William Heller, Dean of the College of Education and Allied Professions at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte; and Dr. James Foster, Dean of Arts, Sciences, and Letters at the University of Michigan at Dearborn. Cummins and Heller have met the USF university community once already, while Foster has not yet been interviewed.

* The search to fill the position of Director of Development and University Relations appears to be nearly concluded. The top three candidates are: Catherine M. Baumbach, Director of Development, Corporations and Foundations at Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's

Symposium a Success

The ten day Symposium on Spain was declared a great success and great fun by those who attended. Featuring a wide variety of lectures, films, events and various opportunities to sample the delicious foods of Spain, the Symposium offered something for everyone.

A highlight of the Symposium was the Spanish Fiesta held in the CAC on Friday evening, March 6. Catered by the Columbia Restaurant, diners had a

Success continued on page 2

Georgetown defeats Bulls in Tournament

By Marty Tschiderer
Crow's Nest Editor

A lot has happened since Spring Break last week. Here is a brief list:

* The search for a permanent Dean for the St. Petersburg campus continues. The list of candidates has been narrowed to three. They are Dr. Patricia Cummins, Dean of the College of Arts and Humanities at Buffalo State College; Dr. H. William Heller, Dean of the College of Education and Allied Professions at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte; and Dr. James Foster, Dean of Arts, Sciences, and Letters at the University of Michigan at Dearborn. Cummins and Heller have met the USF university community once already, while Foster has not yet been interviewed.

* The search to fill the position of Director of Development and University Relations appears to be nearly concluded. The top three candidates are: Catherine M. Baumbach, Director of Development, Corporations and Foundations at Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's

Symposium a Success

The ten day Symposium on Spain was declared a great success and great fun by those who attended. Featuring a wide variety of lectures, films, events and various opportunities to sample the delicious foods of Spain, the Symposium offered something for everyone.

A highlight of the Symposium was the Spanish Fiesta held in the CAC on Friday evening, March 6. Catered by the Columbia Restaurant, diners had a

Success continued on page 2

Georgetown defeats Bulls in Tournament

By Marty Tschiderer
Crow's Nest Editor

A lot has happened since Spring Break last week. Here is a brief list:

* The search for a permanent Dean for the St. Petersburg campus continues. The list of candidates has been narrowed to three. They are Dr. Patricia Cummins, Dean of the College of Arts and Humanities at Buffalo State College; Dr. H. William Heller, Dean of the College of Education and Allied Professions at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte; and Dr. James Foster, Dean of Arts, Sciences, and Letters at the University of Michigan at Dearborn. Cummins and Heller have met the USF university community once already, while Foster has not yet been interviewed.

* The search to fill the position of Director of Development and University Relations appears to be nearly concluded. The top three candidates are: Catherine M. Baumbach, Director of Development, Corporations and Foundations at Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's

Symposium a Success

The ten day Symposium on Spain was declared a great success and great fun by those who attended. Featuring a wide variety of lectures, films, events and various opportunities to sample the delicious foods of Spain, the Symposium offered something for everyone.

A highlight of the Symposium was the Spanish Fiesta held in the CAC on Friday evening, March 6. Catered by the Columbia Restaurant, diners had a meal of authentic seafood paella, roast Spanish pig, salad and bread, all topped off with Tan Springfield, Spanish music filled the auditorium, with the colorful flamenco dancers performing throughout the evening. With over 550 people in attendance, this Spanish Fiesta set the tone for many exciting events.

Success continued on page 2

Georgetown defeats Bulls in Tournament

Slide lectures revealed the beauty and diversity that is Spain. Students sampled flan, tapas and Spanish wine on their way to and from class. Many caught the spirit for many exciting events.

A good time was had by all.

Meet Your Campus Police

By Capt. Bob Siwik
University Police

Officer Wes Shaw come to our agency after serving 20 years on the Philadelphia Police Department. His duties there included uniform patrol, assignment to a federal violent crime habitual offender task force and 10 years as a burglary detective in the Northeast Division.

Wes served four years in the U.S. Coast Guard, in such colorful locations as Staten Island, NY and Cape Maine, NJ.

His activities at USF have consisted of one year on the Tampa Campus, and recently, he has been happy about his transfer to the St. Petersburg campus six months ago. Wes's activities here have included extensive burglary investigations, crime prevention duties, and assistance in police applicant recruitment and screening.

Officer Shaw is a family man with three children, ages 10, 13, and 17. He enjoys youth sporting activities, coaching at the Seminole Youth Association, walking, fishing and theater with his wife Cynthia.

When you see him on campus, make sure to say hi, and share a sports anecdote or a fish story.

Immunization Clinic

The Campus Immunization Clinic has been re-scheduled for Thursday, March 26 from 4:00 - 6:00 pm in DAV-130. For further information, please contact Dana Merry or Diane McKinstry at X-9129.

Student Government in Action

By Marty Tschiderer
Crow's Nest Editor

Karen Kline, a Business major, was voted as Student Government Secretary, defeating Heidi Wilson (Education) in an election held before Spring Break.

Kline joins President Steve Bearden (Business), Vice-President Holly Pena (Education), and Treasurer Steve Tiano (Arts & Sciences) as SG officers.

Other members of SG include Representatives Michele Lieberman (Arts & Sciences), Bob Miller (Business), Cheryl Breden (Business), Ellen Johnson (Business), Carol Stith (Business), Sue Anne Reynolds (Business) and Heidi Gladfelter (Business).

The new officers and representatives will take office May 1.

Student Government will participate in a letter-writing campaign against financial cuts in education.

SG will have a booth available in the Davis Hall Lobby, where students can write their opinions on pre-stamped postcards.

The campaign is being organized by SG representative Rev Smith (Education) and will run for the next few weeks.

For more information, please call the Student Government Office at 893-9144.

Georgetown Has a Great Mourning; Downs USF 75-60

By Marty Tschiderer
Crow's Nest Editor

BOISE, ID - Alonzo Mourning scored a game-high 21 points to lead the Georgetown Hoyas to 75-60 victory over USF in the first round of the NCAA Basketball Tournament's Western regional Thursday night.

Mourning, a first team All-American, was also a major factor on defense, blocking six shots and collecting 10 of his 11 rebounds on the defensive end of the court.

The Hoyas were uncharacteristically accurate from the perimeter in the first half, hitting their first six three-point shots and building a nine point half-time lead.

But the senior-laden Bulls fired back, and closed to within four, 64-60, with 3:01 remaining. The Hoyas, led by Mourning, then went on an 11-0 run to ice the game.

With the loss, the 11th-seeded Bulls, who were making their second NCAA appearance in three years, finished with a record of 19-10.

The loss was also a college career-ender for four of the five Bull starters: Gary Alexander, Fred Lewis, Bobby Russell and Radenko Dobras.

*Information from the St. Petersburg Times was used in this story.
Monday, March 23

The Critical Choices lecture features Paula Lyons, consumer editor, "Good Morning America" and winner of two Emmy awards for reporting. Lyons will speak on "Ethical Problems in Investigative Journalism." The lectures are open to the public and are held in the CAC at 6:00 pm.

Circle K International meets at 4:45 in the CAC.

Tuesday, March 24

Orientation to On-Campus Recruiting meets from 5:30 to 6:00 pm in DAV-115.

Linda Osmundson, Executive Director of the Center Against Spouse Abuse, will speak on "Battered Women: Debunking the Myth of Co-Dependency." 7:30 pm in DAV-130. Free.

Wednesday, March 25

John Wells, UNC, Chapel Hill Institute of Marine Science, presents "Processes of Tidal Flat Sedimentation in a High Tidal Range Setting: West Coast of Korea" at noon in the Marine Science Laboratory Conference Room.

Wellaware! focuses on environment and relationships from 11:00 am to noon in DAV-115.

The St. Petersburg Lecture Series presents the USF St. Pete Shamrock Singers in "Irish Spring: The Soap Opera." Featuring shillelaghs and shenanigans. Noon in DAV-130.

Student Government meets at 4:45 today in CAC-133.

Learn how to structure a job campaign in Job Search Strategies from 4:00 to 5:30 pm in DAV-115.

A College and Career Planning workshop meets from 6:00 to 7:00 pm in DAV-115.

Thursday, March 26

The Immunization Clinic for incoming students is held from 4:00 to 6:00 pm in DAV-130.

"Goddesses, Cowgirls and Wild, Wild Women," a women's spirituality workshop, meets at 7:00 pm in the CAC. Carolyn Taylor, artist and leader of spirituality workshops, leads the event.

Friday, March 27

An "Evening of Women's Music" by folk-rocker Marlen and Trouble: The Bad Girls of Folk is held at 8:00 pm in DAV-130.

Sunday, March 29

The Arts and Sciences Honor Society holds its first induction ceremony in the CAC at 3:00 pm.

Monday, March 30

The Critical Choices Lectures present Andrew M. Greeley, sociologist and best-selling author, and Jacob Neusner, graduate research professor of religious studies in "A Conversation On Values." 6:00 pm in the CAC.

The Geology of Florida class hosts Sam Upchurch, Department of Geology, USF, Tampa, in a lecture on "Hydrogeology-Basic Principles." 6:00 to 7:15 pm in the MSL-Auditorium.

Circle K International meets at 4:45 in the CAC.

Tuesday, March 31

"Lesbians: We Are Everywhere" is presented by the Women's Energy Bank. 7:30 pm in DAV-130. Free.

Wednesday, April 1

The Geology of Florida Class hosts a program on Water Resource Management in Florida by the Southwest Florida Water Management District, Brooksville. 6:00 to 7:15 pm in the MSL-Auditorium.

Thursday, April 2

Orientation to On-Campus Recruiting meets from noon to 12:30 pm in DAV-115.

Friday, April 3

Open court volleyball for USF students, faculty and staff. Noon to 1 pm in the CAC.

Monday, April 6

Become a deputized voter registrar at a free seminar in DAV-130 at 4:45 pm. Virginia A. Stewart, elections service coordinator, will conduct the 45-minute program. Sponsored by Circle K International.

The Critical Choices Lectures presents David H. Smith, professor, USF College of Medicine speaking on "A Narrative Approach to Ethical Problem-Solving In Medicine." 6:00 pm in the CAC. Free and open to the public.

The USF Department of Marine Science presents Bob Anderson, Lamont-Doherty Geological Observatory. Anderson speaks on "Anomalous Boundary Scavenging in the Middle Atlantic Bight." 5:00 pm in DAV-102.

COMMENCEMENT ANNOUNCEMENTS

...on sale at the CAC Activities Office.

$0.80 each.
Tune In, Or Tune Out, It's Your Choice

By Dana Merry
Health Educator

Have you listened to yourself lately? I mean really tuned into that small whispering voice inside of your head that directs every action and reaction of yours? If not, you're not alone.

Most of us aren't even aware of that small critic that waits for the opportunity to voice itself—almost automatically—in response to a lower grade, a missed opportunity, or the way your clothes don't fit perfectly. It's surprising most of us are not aware of the critic since we've become conditioned—almost immune—to and accepting of the critic. It's been with us so long we probably don't need it any longer and never did.

Has your critic tuned in yet? I hope so because that is exactly who I want to talk to anyway; that's exactly who I'm writing to (no offense).

Me: Now that I have your attention, critic, I want to ask you a few questions, okay?

Critic: Maybe, as long as you hurry up because I'm very busy, I work the entire waking hours of the day.

Me: So tell me, how long have you been doing this?

Critic: Ever since I can remember, but I guess I was born somewhere between my failure at sports and parental neglect.

Me: Where do you get your energy from if you work so hard and so long?

Critic: Oh, that's easy. Thoughts. They are forever present and are at the root of my existence.

Me: What would happen if these thoughts were somehow changed so that they wouldn't feed you anymore?

Critic: That would be horrible, don't even mention it! Someone may find out that they can choose their thoughts and stop feeding me!

Me: Where do you get your energy from if you work so hard and so long?

Critic: Oh, that's easy. Thoughts. They are forever present and are at the root of my existence.

Me: What would happen if these thoughts were somehow changed so that they wouldn't feed you anymore?

Critic: That would be horrible, don't even mention it! Someone may find out that they can choose their thoughts and stop feeding me!

Me: Where do you get your energy from if you work so hard and so long?

Critic: Oh, that's easy. Thoughts. They are forever present and are at the root of my existence.

Me: What would happen if these thoughts were somehow changed so that they wouldn't feed you anymore?

Critic: That would be horrible, don't even mention it! Someone may find out that they can choose their thoughts and stop feeding me!

Me: Where do you get your energy from if you work so hard and so long?

Critic: Oh, that's easy. Thoughts. They are forever present and are at the root of my existence.

Me: What would happen if these thoughts were somehow changed so that they wouldn't feed you anymore?

Critic: That would be horrible, don't even mention it! Someone may find out that they can choose their thoughts and stop feeding me!

Me: Where do you get your energy from if you work so hard and so long?

Critic: Oh, that's easy. Thoughts. They are forever present and are at the root of my existence.

Me: What would happen if these thoughts were somehow changed so that they wouldn't feed you anymore?

Critic: That would be horrible, don't even mention it! Someone may find out that they can choose their thoughts and stop feeding me!

Me: Where do you get your energy from if you work so hard and so long?

Critic: Oh, that's easy. Thoughts. They are forever present and are at the root of my existence.

Me: What would happen if these thoughts were somehow changed so that they wouldn't feed you anymore?

Critic: That would be horrible, don't even mention it! Someone may find out that they can choose their thoughts and stop feeding me!

Me: Where do you get your energy from if you work so hard and so long?

Critic: Oh, that's easy. Thoughts. They are forever present and are at the root of my existence.

Me: What would happen if these thoughts were somehow changed so that they wouldn't feed you anymore?

Critic: That would be horrible, don't even mention it! Someone may find out that they can choose their thoughts and stop feeding me!

Me: Where do you get your energy from if you work so hard and so long?

Critic: Oh, that's easy. Thoughts. They are forever present and are at the root of my existence.

Me: What would happen if these thoughts were somehow changed so that they wouldn't feed you anymore?

Critic: That would be horrible, don't even mention it! Someone may find out that they can choose their thoughts and stop feeding me!

Me: Where do you get your energy from if you work so hard and so long?

Critic: Oh, that's easy. Thoughts. They are forever present and are at the root of my existence.

Me: What would happen if these thoughts were somehow changed so that they wouldn't feed you anymore?

Critic: That would be horrible, don't even mention it! Someone may find out that they can choose their thoughts and stop feeding me!

Me: Where do you get your energy from if you work so hard and so long?

Critic: Oh, that's easy. Thoughts. They are forever present and are at the root of my existence.

Me: What would happen if these thoughts were somehow changed so that they wouldn't feed you anymore?

Critic: That would be horrible, don't even mention it! Someone may find out that they can choose their thoughts and stop feeding me!

Me: Where do you get your energy from if you work so hard and so long?

Critic: Oh, that's easy. Thoughts. They are forever present and are at the root of my existence.

Me: What would happen if these thoughts were somehow changed so that they wouldn't feed you anymore?

Critic: That would be horrible, don't even mention it! Someone may find out that they can choose their thoughts and stop feeding me!

Me: Where do you get your energy from if you work so hard and so long?

Critic: Oh, that's easy. Thoughts. They are forever present and are at the root of my existence.

Me: What would happen if these thoughts were somehow changed so that they wouldn't feed you anymore?

Critic: That would be horrible, don't even mention it! Someone may find out that they can choose their thoughts and stop feeding me!

Me: Where do you get your energy from if you work so hard and so long?

Critic: Oh, that's easy. Thoughts. They are forever present and are at the root of my existence.

Me: What would happen if these thoughts were somehow changed so that they wouldn't feed you anymore?

Critic: That would be horrible, don't even mention it! Someone may find out that they can choose their thoughts and stop feeding me!