DUBLIN CODDLE

8 (¼ in. thick) ham or bacon slices peeled and sliced
4 large onions, sliced 1 qt. (4 cups)
4 tablesp. chopped boiling water parsley salt and pepper
8 pork sausages

Boil the sausages and bacon or ham (cut into large chunks) in the boiling water for 5 minutes. Drain, but reserve the liquid. Put the meat into a large saucepan (or an ovenproof dish) with the thinly-sliced onions and potatoes and the chopped parsley. Season to taste, and add enough of the stock to barely cover. Lay greaseproof (wax) paper on top, put on the lid, and simmer gently, or cook in a slow to moderate oven (200 F. electric, gas reguló ½–1) for about an hour or until the liquid is reduced by half and all the vegetables are cooked but not mushy. Serve hot with the vegetables on top and fresh soda bread and glasses of stout or Guiness.

IRISH COFFEE

Although of recent origin, this is all set to become a tradition. An excellent end to a meal, a 'pick me up', as there is both 'eating and drinkking' in it. Irish coffee is served in all restaurants, and most pubs, all over Ireland.

1 double measure Irish whiskey
1 cup strong, hot, black coffee
1 heaped teasp. sugar

First of all, warm a stemmed whiskey glass. Put in the sugar and enough hot coffee to dissolve the sugar. Stir. Add whiskey. Hold a teasp. curved side up across the glass and pour the cold cream slowly over the spoon. Don't stir.

Traditionally eaten on Saturday night as a supper dish. It has been popular since the eighteenth century. This savory stew of bacon and sausages combines two foods known since the earliest Irish literature. Bacon (tine or senshaille) is mentioned many times in the medieval Vision of MacConglinne, as are sausages, particularly one called Indrachtan. Leeks and oatmeal were no doubt used in the earliest form of Coddle but, since the eighteenth century, potatoes and onion have supplanted them.

The Office of Veterans Affairs strongly suggests that V.A. students:

keep all V.A. correspondence (i.e. award letters, overpayment letters, etc.)

maintain a file on the V.A. checks that you receive record the following information from the checks:

- check number
- date of check
- amount of check
- pay period (i.e. 09/20/74 - 10/31/74)

Here are some common reasons related to "G.I. BILL" pay problems:

1. Failure to certify a specific period of enrollment. Failure can be traced to:
   - a. failure by student
   - b. failure by university
   - c. failure by Veteran's Administration

2. Failure on the part of transfer and/or new students to file a form 21-1995, Change In Place Of Training Or Program, with either the University or the V.A.

3. Failure to advise the Office of Veterans Affairs of "special status" such as:
   - a. dual enrollment
   - b. special student
   - c. teacher certification, etc.

4. Failure to make satisfactory arrangements with the V.A. to repay overpayments of educational assistance.

5. Failure to furnish school copy of Certificate of Eligibility when received from Veteran's Administration.

6. Failure to notify V.A. of change of address.

7. Failure to notify the Office of Veterans Affairs of change of hours.

EMERGENCY MEDICAL SERVICE

If you are a student at the St. Petersburg Campus and become ill or injured while on campus, certain medical services can be provided through the school without cost to you.

1. If you should become ill while at school and want to go home, this can be provided for you. This assistance will consist of contacting a friend at your request or providing a taxi.

2. In an emergency, you can be taken by taxicab or ambulance to either Bayfront Medical Center or Suncoast Medical Clinic for treatment. The University will pay for ambulance service up to $20.00 and will also pay up to $75.00 of the bill for emergency services, including doctor's fees associated with Emergency Room care. This does not cover the cost of hospitalization should it be required but is solely for emergency room treatment.

PLEASE NOTE: Off-campus medical care is your own financial responsibility unless authorized prior to treatment by the Office of Student Services (between the hours of 8:00 AM and 8:30 PM). The receptionist will know how to obtain emergency authorization.

3. If you have the Student Group Health Insurance and wish to file a claim, the St. Petersburg Campus Student Services Office has the necessary forms and information to help you.

4. If you are taking five hours or more at the Tampa Campus, you will be required to pay a $6.00 Health Service fee to cover the costs of the additional services at that campus.
The Division of Youth Services works with kids in trouble, various degrees of trouble. We always need money for emergency care, treatment and rehabilitation of these kids. Our operating budget for this program is $0. So, we have decided to come up with an idea to make you world famous and help our kids at the same time.

On April Fools Day (April 1) at 6 PM, in the parking lot in front of Lerner Shops at Central Plaza, we will run the first Fiddler Crab Race. You will be able to pick your crab from a bevy of beauties. Pick the one you think will be the fastest. He will then be put in a circle and be timed by a Circuit Court Judge (honest) to get his official entrance score. His time will then be posted for the world to see, and if he is the quickest, which of course he will be, you will win a crab trophy.

Actually, it's quite impressive. We will have press coverage and are trying for TV coverage, also, Publicity will be yours forever. Be the organization that St. Petersburg talks about for years. You can be, all it takes is a minimum of $20.00 an entry. Remember, that includes the crab.

You need not be present to win, but you will miss all the fun.

We are looking for your participation that will propel your club into world notoriety, and help a youth in trouble at the same time.

Remember, this could be the start of an event destined to be as popular as the Daytona 500. Looking forward to your participation.

Thanking you in advance.

EASTER SUPERSTITIONS

The earth itself has been dead all winter. Now its resurrection calendar and the world of nature fit together perfectly.

The earth itself has been dead all winter. Now its resurrection is an illustration of the Resurrection that Easter celebrates. It is not strange that everyone feeds the need to wear new clothes at Easter, or that tobcree was once, in fact, a superstition that it was unlucky not to wear new Easter apparel. Another pleasant old superstition was that even the sun was so happy on Easter morning that it danced in the sky. Even wise old scholars debated the question quite solemnly. They did finally come to the conclusion that the sun did not dance, but there were many who did not accept this verdict. There may be some remote original connection between the popular Easter sunrise services and the desire to get out early to see if the sun would express its joy so playfully.

In old times it was a very lucky omen to see a lamb first thing on Easter morning. Of course, it was always lucky to see a lamb, since the oily two forms the devil cannot assume are those of a lamb and a dove. But the lamb was the special Easter omen, because Easter is the feast of the Lamb of God that was slain and rose again.
