Directed by Alex March
Starring Alan Alda, Lauren Hutton, Sugar Ray Robinson, Frank Gifford

JANUARY 21

Alan Alda plays George Plimpton, editor of the Paris Review and dilettante-about-town who "researches" all manner of trades by briefly but actively, participating in them rather than adopting the traditional vicarious posture of the intellectual. In this episode, George decides to investigate the rough and tumble world of pro-football: the Detroit Lions agree to take him on, and he goes through a series of wild experiences.

Museum of Fine Arts - St. Petersburg

EXHIBITION OF BOUDIN PAINTINGS

St. Petersburg, Florida...The Museum of Fine Arts presents a major exhibition of paintings by Louis Eugène Boudin Tuesday, January 18 through Sunday, February 27.

The sea, its ships, harbors, beaches, ladies in crinolines and market towns inspired this Normandy born painter. Boudin is admired most of all for his skies--his devotion to changing effects of light and atmosphere prefigured that of the younger Impressionists. In fact the young Monet learned much of his painting of light from Boudin. Organized by the Santa Barbara Museum of Art and all drawn from American collections, the forty-one paintings demonstrate this artist's leading role in the rise of Impressionism. His painting philosophy is summed up in the statement: "Three brush strokes painted directly from nature are better than two days in the studio."

The artist's most sought after subjects are his groups of ladies and gentlemen seated on the beach in the elegant costumes of the period. Painted with short, quick strokes, these have a sparkling vivacity. This can be seen, for example, in "The Beach Scene at Trouville" painted in 1880 and lent by the Philadelphia Museum of Art. The little port scenes of Normandy with their houses close to water and great square rigged ships are also most attractive in their recreation of the world of a century ago.

Richard A. Madigan, Director of the Norton Gallery of Art, West Palm Beach, will give a lecture on "Boudin: King of the Sky" at the Museum Sunday, January 23 at 3 PM.

Located at 255 Beach Drive North, the Museum is open Tuesday through Saturday 10 to 5 and Sunday, 1 to 5. Admission to non-members is by voluntary donation.

Staff of the American Friends Service Committee (AFSC)

Mr. Johnson, staff member for the past 25 years of the AFSC (a Quaker service and education organization) is one of the most knowledgeable people in the U.S. on South and Southeast Asia. In 1973-74 he spent several months observing the "post-war war" in Cambodia and South Vietnam, the prospects for peace in Laos, the after-effects of the October 1973 student-led revolt in Thailand, and the growing tension's under dictatorship in Indonesia and the Philippines.

In 1971, he visited the Peoples Republic of China at the invitation of Prince Norodom Sihanouk, exiled chief of state of Cambodia.

Currently, there is a lot of information printed about who is running for the position of Chairperson of the Student Affairs Committee. We seem to have overlooked the retiring Chairperson, Mary McConnell.

Mary has held the job of Chairperson for over a year. She has been a real fighter for students of this campus and it's time we honored her in print. During her term in office, Mary McConnell has kept up a constant stream of correspondence to legislators and school officials in an effort to draw their attention to the inequalities of the activities and service fee budget. Now, thanks to Mary, it appears that we are closer to receiving our fair share of funds.

There have been others fighting along side Mary to achieve fair and equal treatment for this campus but Mary was the prime mover and leader. As she steps down from office after a very crucial period in this campus' growth, we wish her well in whatever endeavor she may try and say THANK YOU, MARY McCONNELL. You have led us well and set a standard for all who follow you.
