USF Soft Ballers Shut Down. The USF men's city league softball team lost its first game Wednesday, April 6 to a team named "Too Much". The score was 14-1. Although the score was lopsided, there were two bright spots in the game as Nick Gammell and Jon Halleach made superb catches... the kind that dreams are made of. Tough luck this time - maybe next week guys.

RUSSIAN-AMERICAN SOCIETY PRESENTS
Sasha and Lena IN CONCERT

Sasha and Lena, authors and performers of Russian underground songs, will perform a one-of-its-kind concert on Sunday, April 17. The program, entitled "Good-by, Russia", is sponsored by the St. Petersburg Russian-American Society and will be held at the Senior Citizen Center, 500 2nd Ave. N.E. at 2 PM. Donations are $4.00 and $3.00.

Sasha and Lena Khaletski were facing a prosperous future in movies, television and the stage when they left their native Moscow a little over a year ago. Now they are attempting to win American support for Russian artists frustrated by Soviet censorship and creative dictatorship. Their medium is music. Sasha's original songs are described as being somewhere between American folk-rock and Russian folk music, though they are performed in Russian.

Sasha had toured Canada and the U.S. with the Soviet Central Children's Theatre and discovered alternatives he didn't know existed. He told Lena, with the Musical Theatre, about it and they began to perform in underground concerts. In the short time they have been in the U.S., Sasha and Lena have given concerts from California to Connecticut, at such places as Carnegie Hall, Columbia University and Fordham University.

Advance tickets are available at the Senior Citizen's Center, Letter's Music store, Beach Bazaar, and Anna K. Fabrics and Notions.

Tickets on sale in Activities Office for BEACH THEATRE and SKY-VUE DRIVE-IN. $1.00 each plus FREE COKF at Sky-vue.

Tickets available in Activities Office for ABC Florida State theatres (including Plaza I & II, Dolphin). $1.50 each.

One year ago in April of 1976, a group of thirty concerned people gathered to consider development of a hospice in the Tampa Bay Area. Inspired by Dr. Elisabeth Kubler-Ross, the goal was set to provide a program of medical, social, and psychological care for the special needs of the terminally ill patient and his family unit.

Originally the word "hospice" referred to a waystation for pilgrims, a place where travelers could rest and refresh themselves before continuing their journey. Our modern hospice will minister to those traveling toward death, enabling them to "live until they die" in an atmosphere of support and freedom from pain. Also, in the modern sense, a hospice specializes in making it possible for persons to remain in their own homes with family and friends close by, and with all services needed available to them in their homes.

As part of its public awareness effort, the Elisabeth Kubler-Ross Hospice invites area professionals and non-professionals--physicians, nurses, social workers, ministers, counselors, and laypersons--to share an afternoon with Dr. Ross on Sunday, April 17th, 1977, at the Pasadena Community Church, 112-70th Street South, St. Petersburg, from 2:00PM to 5:00PM. Dr. Ross, world renown psychiatrist and author, has conducted research and lectured extensively throughout the world. Since beginning her initial project more than ten years ago, she has led seminars and workshops on death and dying throughout the United States.
