FAMU Offers Bachelor's in Jazz Studies

TALLAHASSEE—Florida A&M University will roll out a new major in the fall featuring student instruction in jazz. The jazz studies program is the department's latest move to maintain its reputation as a music powerhouse.

By Denise Powell Jackson

In the fall, Florida A&M University will introduce a Bachelor of Arts degree in jazz studies, adding to the university’s already well-established music programs. The university has a long history of providing music education and has produced numerous successful alumni.

The Bachelor of Arts degree in jazz studies will offer students a comprehensive education in jazz, including coursework in jazz history, theory, performance, composition, and music business. Students will have the opportunity to specialize in areas such as performance, music education, or music business.

The new degree program is intended to prepare students for careers in the music industry, including positions as performers, composers, educators, and music business professionals. It will also provide a foundation for graduate study in music.

The inclusion of jazz studies in the music department expands the range of music disciplines offered at Florida A&M University and provides students with a unique opportunity to pursue their passion for jazz.

The new program aligns with the university's commitment to excellence in music education and reflects the growing importance of jazz in the music industry.

The Bachelor of Arts degree in jazz studies is designed to be accessible to a wide range of students, regardless of their previous musical background. The program will be offered in both a traditional and online format, providing flexibility for students.

The inclusion of jazz studies in the music department is part of a broader effort to strengthen the university's music programs and to enhance the student experience. Florida A&M University is committed to providing a high-quality education and to preparing students for success in their chosen fields.

The Bachelor of Arts degree in jazz studies is expected to attract a diverse group of students, including traditional music majors as well as students from other disciplines who are interested in jazz.

The Bachelor of Arts degree in jazz studies is a testament to Florida A&M University's commitment to providing a well-rounded education and to preparing students for success in their chosen fields. The program's structure and curriculum are designed to provide students with the knowledge and skills necessary to succeed in the music industry.

The Bachelor of Arts degree in jazz studies is a unique opportunity for students to pursue their passion for jazz and to receive a high-quality education in this important musical genre.

The Bachelor of Arts degree in jazz studies is one of several new programs that the university will be launching in the fall. The university is committed to providing a diverse range of academic programs to meet the needs of its students and to prepare them for success in their chosen fields.

The Bachelor of Arts degree in jazz studies is a testament to Florida A&M University's commitment to excellence in music education and to preparing students for success in the music industry.

For more information about the Bachelor of Arts degree in jazz studies, please visit the university's website or contact the music department.

AG Venture At Florida State Fair Grounds

TAMPA - The Florida State Fairgrounds is hosting 1,000 grade students for an AGVenture. Field trips begin on November 12th and run through November 27th. From 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. daily, stop by Charlie Lyles Arts.

AG Venture is a hands-on learning experience in agriscience. Students participate in all aspects of farming by growing different stations such as dairy, forestry, fruits, vegetables, citrus, horticultur­al, beef, waste management, and poultry. Upon arrival, students will be seated in their own personal farm but start to see Ag Venture. Several new stations will be featured this year such as switch­grass, citrus, soil and water conservation, composting and animal vegetables.

Students will visit the dairy station where they will make their own butter and eat a cow being milked. Students visiting the chicken station will be squeezing eggs, while students at the beef station will see "when a cow is more than a cow." Students in the horticulture group will be planting flowers, while students in the fruits and veg­etable group will be planting grapes.

Ag in the Classroom takes place before the classroom setting and brings it to life. The goal of the Zodiac Group is to broaden our appetites and appreciation for an ag group that is largely ignored by most group leaders. The group has just past Friday at Salt Creek Artwork in St. Petersburg to highlight celebrity photographer Photographs All; Salt Creek Artworks is home to many wonderful local artists. Joe O'Cullum who does the working/teaching atmosphere for the Hard On Macs in St. Petersburg, Martha Martin who designs the set for "Honey I Shrank The Kids" at Universal Studios, sculptor for Beneficia, painter at Peter Creek, painter Carol Dameron, and owner/executive of the Florida State Fair Authority at Salt Creek, Denise And­erson. Her school offers classes for children and adults in woodworking, clay, oil, drawing, and video medium. Denise stated that she flies in with potential students who can't afford the acad­emy but who show a deep-seated desire to learn and improve upon their artistic talents.

Salt Creek Artworks used to be an outdoor store that now houses many artists with different disciplines. The store is located at 400 North St. Petersburg, Florida, phone: 550-5092. Those interested in joining the Zodiac Group on future outings of food, drink, and art call 350-5070 ext. 2019 for information.

Save The Kids, Now!

By Gerald A. Reynolds

In the early '80s, a private Christian school in the River City offered scholarships to low-income parents to send their children to school. Since then, we have implemented reform that will allow many more children to receive scholarships. In many cases, it has been found that other writers and scholars have relied on these programs to keep a healthy and prosperous society. In other words, they vote with their feet. We are unusual for most jobs. Our children's futures are now at stake.

When a public school facility fails to provide a safe and educationally sound environment, it is important that parents and their representatives act to protect the future of their children by choosing to operate as private schools. Community Health Center Celebrates 1st Anniversary

The Greenwood Health and Resource Center held its first anniversary community banquet at the Clearwater Country Club, with 200 supporters and patrons on hand to congratulate Willis Carson, center executive director, and other volunteers for dedicated service this past year.—"A visitant that became a reality" — Guest found on scene delicious dinner as master of ceremonies Paul Wegger, Senior Vice-President and Community Development Manager of Barnett Bank, kept the flow of the program lively in the church-owned and sponsored banquet hall.

Mayor Ria Garvey brought greetings from the city of Clearwater and Delbert Viceroy, Director of Clearwater Housing Authority, introduced the guest speaker of the evening, Dr. Granger Benson, Clinical Advi­sure and prevention are wise investments in your health.

Hypertension is a silent killer, but education, screenings, and prevention are wise investments in your health. The Greenwood Health and Resource Center is available for such treatment and screening.

Former Clearwater Mayor and County Commissioner Gabe Cazares introduced distinguished guests present, including Willis Carson, founder of the center, Agnes McNay, Fred and Linda Wolf, Sharon Lewis, and County Com­missioner Ron Harris. Volunteer awards were presented by Dr. Theresa Jones and former City Com­missioner Art Doegans to Audrey Livell, Gloria McClean, Ernest Carson, Dr. Benson, Nancy Lott, South, Catherina Cramm, and Deborah Lashlock. Announc­ing evening was given to Willis Carson as the Rev. William Sherman, pastor of Mt. Carmel Church present­ed a donation to the center from his parishioners.

Patron Harold Bank, St. Vincenti Parish, Fred Thomas, and Morton Plant—Monti­oned Hospital were honored to serve as honorees with Muhammad Abdul- Rahim in absentia.

The banquet was a great success in support of a strong Board of Directors and advisory boards. Earlier this year, I wrote about the goods being received, including the center’s community health center, and it was a pleasure to see such positive results one year later with additional projects, forums, and expanded services planned for the future. Congratulations to all.

USF Celebrates Homecoming

TAMPA—After 30 years, the University of South Florida celebrated its Homecoming with a football game. Also during the cele­bration, the first black King and Queen were crowned. The King was Mr. Elvis Nanas, who is President of the Student Body at the uni­versity, and the Queen was Ms. Kamilah Oliphant, who is the Vice-President of the Student Body at the university.

The Homecoming Bash took place Thursday evening, Oct. 16, on campus. There was plenty of food, beverages, games, and even a DJ with good music. It was a joy to see so many of us enjoying ourselves. Most of the students were even wearing their green and gold in honor of the event.

Blinded Former Trooper To Speak At SPJC

ST. PETERSBURG—Former Louisiana State Trooper Bobby Smith, who was blinded by gunfire in the line of duty in 1986, will be a special guest at St. Petersburg Junior College during Red Ribbon Week, Oct. 27-31.

Now a nationally recognized speaker, Smith will give a presentation at noon on Monday, Oct. 27, on the Gulf and Pinellas campuses.

His appearance on Monday will be the final event for the college’s Red Ribbon Week activities, which focus on promoting drug-free schools and communities.

The college’s main campus will be decorated with messages promoting the theme, “It’s More Than a Came,” presented by The Walt Disney World Resort.

The week is part of a national campaign initiated in 1988 by the National Education Association and the National Institute on Drug Abuse.

The Graces

...the Lord Jesus the same night in which He was betrayed took bread, and when He had given thanks, He brake it, and said, Take, eat: this is My body which is broken for you. Do this in remembrance of Me. - 1 Corinthians 11:24.

There are many definitions of the word "grace." Among them are "a shout prayer which in itself is nothing, but when it is preceded by praise and thanksgiving;..." These graces are sung in the Methodist Episcopal and Methodist Protestant churches. In the African Methodist Episcopal church, the general prayer of Thanksgiving is as follows: "O Lord, our Heavenly Father, we humbly beseech you that all we sacrifice unto you; humbly accept this our sacrifice of praise and thanksgiving; most humbly beseeching you to grant that by the means and with which in the unity of the Holy Spirit all honor and glory be unto thee, O Father Almighty, world without end. Amen." There are children's, grace, hymns and prayers. There are graces and sermon choruses in abundance. Yet the prayer we should pattern every prayer after is the Lord's Prayer (Matthew 6:9-13).

"Give us this day our daily bread,..."

DAYTONA BEACH - Bethune-Cookman College's Homecoming Parade was well attended on October 18, 1997, with various bands from throughout the southeast region and Washington, DC, performing. Cookman's campus pep organization, the Fun Bunch, made its parade debut invigorating the crowd as the rain fell.

Bethune-Cookman's band performed during the pre-game and halftime events. South Carolina State, their opponent for Homecoming, performed during post-game activities. Both bands did a wonderful job.

Kick-off for the Homecoming Game was 2pm at Daytona Beach Municipal Stadium playing on Larry Kell field before a crowd of 11,212. Rain continued to play a nuisance to the activities, but it never stopped fan participation.

Going into the game, Bethune's football record was 3-3 and South Carolina State's 5-0. The Wildcats overall record now is 3-4 and S. Carolina State's 6-0.

The Wildcats made costly mistakes, such as jumping the snap, delay of game, calling early time outs, plus interceptions. These errors opened the door for the Bulldogs to have a victorious 17-10 score over the Wildcats.

Wildcat spirit was evident from the beginning to the end of the activities.

Pumpkin Patch Comes To South Side

by W. Williams
Saturday, October 19, was move-in day at Lakewood United Church of Christ, 809 43rd Ave. N., when a truck loaded with pumpkins grown in the Northwestern New Mexico region arrived at a large pile of pumpkins at the church.

During the early part of the year, the church council agreed to become a member of the Pumpkin Patch family which includes more than 40 locations in 26 states.

Bill Parsons, an Eckerd College professor and chairman of the church's administration and finance board, said that pumpkins are available in all sizes and shapes with prices as low as three for each and are priced according to the size of the pumpkin selected. He went on to point out that pumpkins are great for teachers and their classroom activities. Also, the Pumpkin Patch is a great place to have pumpkins when and for children to play in the Pumpkin Patch.

The Pumpkin Patch will be open until October 31, between the hours of 10 am and 5 pm.

Lakewood United Church of Christ, under the dynamic leadership of its pastor, Kim Wells, was the third consecutive winner of the United Methodist Student Ministries Pumpkin Patch, earning a prize of $100 in cash and two new pumpkins to be used for decoration.

Bethel Community Baptist Church was filled to capacity Sunday as members, friends and well-wishers came to worship during the church’s 74th Anniversary. It was a day of sanctuary and praise due started at 9 am with an ordination service and the installation of ministers conducted by the church’s pastor, Rev. Manuel L. Sykes and marked its 74 years of dedicated service to Prayer Tower.

Mother Anna Kirksey was born in Velda, GA in 1909. Her father was a Baptist minister who taught her the value of commitment, obedience and dedication to the Lord Jesus Christ. She moved to St. Petersburg in 1931. She was saved and filled with the Holy Ghost at the 14th St. COGIC (which is now Prayer Tower) approximately 65 years ago.

Mother Kirksey was married to the late Earnest Kirksey. She was appointed church mother of the 14th St. COGIC at the age of 35. One of her favorite sayings is, “Whatever you are going through, stay with God—because God will take care of you.”

We appreciate all the wonderful things that Mother Kirksey is doing for kingdom building. We appreciate Janame Yar­ gan who spearheaded this appreciation service. To God be the glory for all he’s done. We give God the glory for this faithful serv­ ice.

On Sunday, Oct. 26, the 11:00am worship serv­ ice speaker is Rev. Victor Gordon of Daytona Beach. The 4pm speaker will be Elder Charles Davis of Tampa.

We cordially invite you to come fellowship with us in worship and praise.

Community Baptist Church is a center of community service. We thank you for 74 years of spiritual growth, and its members give glory to God, and its members give thanks for the blessing of their lives. The choir sang praises to the Lord. Thompson brought the spirit-filled church. He lead them into the New Testament of the Bible. The choir started in 1997, with 490 members, organized by Dr. Mary McLeod Bethune. God has used this small group to influence many lives. The Bethel-Cookman College Concert Choir is making their annual visit to Pasadena Community Church on Saturday, Oct. 25, at 7:30 pm. The choir is located on Presidents Ave. and Second St. in Pet. The choir is invited to Pasadena. The choir sang in Daytona Beach which is supported by the United Methodist Church.

In years past, this dance has carried a Masquerade Party theme, but this year they will Flash back to the 70s complete with afro wigs, platform shoes, side britta hats and other 70s attire.

Brian McKnight Releases 'Anytime'

NEW YORK, NY - There are many words used to describe Brian McKnight — singer, songwriter, performer. Perhaps the word that best sums up Brian is one that is simple, but frequently misused: musician. Brian's musicianship, combined with all of the other attributes he brings to the table are in evidence on his third and strongest album to date. The name of the album is 'Anytime' and from its eclectic yet thoroughly McKnight sound and feel, it's clear that 'Anytime' is right now.

Brian brings his sensitive vocals, his innate way of painting a lyric and scene of the most deeply personal songs to date to his album. Says Brian, "I really feel that I have taken my music to the next level."

This album is 'Anytime'. Sensical, wry, passionate and playful, 'Anytime' is Brian McKnight at his most potent both as a man and a musician.

There are many words used to describe Brian McKnight, 'Anytime' is one of them.

'Moesha'

Halloween stories abound, Q and Moesha do not disappoint. In 'Moesha', Q and Moesha go to a ghoul-teen nightmare but even that ordeal doesn't compare to the wrath of Kim when she overhears friends joking about her weight on 'Moesha' airing Tuesday, October 28 on UPN. Doubting their friendship, Kim opts to arrive at the Halloween party with another castmate. The guests also will pare to the wrath of Kim when she overhears friends joking about her weight on 'Moesha' airing Tuesday, October 28 on UPN. Courtney Harris, Miss B-CC and SGA president Tyrone Jolly place a wreath at the grave of Dr. Mary McLeod Bethune as a part of the Founder's Day observance.

DAYTONA BEACH—With only $10 and faith in God, she took a step toward her dream and 50 years later the product of her visualizations is now a vital and substantial institution to many remarkable women—Dr. Mary McLeod Bethune. Dr. Bethune founded Bethune-Cookman College. It was standing ready in more ways than one more generations as the college family and members of the community observed Founder's Day on Oct. 3. "We have been called to the work and daughters of Mary Bethune," said President Bronson during her opening remarks. "And it is an honor and a pleasure to be here today." The college's 50th anniversary was celebrated at the annual Founder's Day luncheon held at the college's auditorium. The college's history was discussed by Dr. Bethune's daughter, Ruth Hatcher, who spoke about her childhood memories of her family's daily life. She said Dr. Bethune once said, "I love to teach, I love to share my knowledge, and I love to see young people grow and develop." The speech was followed by a performance of the college's student choir, which sang "The Star-Spangled Banner." The program was concluded with a presentation of the college's 50th anniversary commemorative plate, which features symbols of the college's heritage and history. The plate was presented to President Bronson by the college's student government association (SGA). The SGA also presented a gift to President Bronson, a silver plate engraved with the college's motto and have it branded on the members' chests.

According to President Bronson, the philosophy of the college is to "be the voice of reason and the guardian of the future." She said the college has always been dedicated to providing a quality education that prepares students for leadership roles in their communities and in society. The college has a long history of serving the community and providing educational opportunities for students from diverse backgrounds. The college has also been recognized for its commitment to social justice and equality, and it has a strong focus on community service and outreach.

The college has also received numerous accolades and awards for its outstanding academic programs and faculty. It has been consistently ranked among the top universities in the country for its overall academic performance, as well as for its research programs and faculty quality. The college has also been recognized for its commitment to diversity and inclusion, and it has a strong focus on supporting underrepresented students and communities.

The college is proud of its rich history and its continued commitment to providing a quality education for all students. The college is dedicated to preparing its students for success in their careers and in life, and it is committed to working with the community to address the challenges facing our society today.

The college has been supported by a range of individuals and organizations, including alumni, donors, and community partners. The college has also received funding from a variety of government agencies and private foundations. The college is grateful for the support it has received and is committed to continuing to provide a high-quality education for all its students.

The college is also proud of its diverse student body and its commitment to diversity and inclusion. The college has a strong focus on supporting underrepresented students and communities, and it has a strong track record of providing opportunities for students from diverse backgrounds to excel academically.

In conclusion, the college is proud of its rich history, its continued commitment to providing a quality education for all students, and its strong focus on diversity and inclusion. The college is dedicated to preparing its students for success in their careers and in life, and it is committed to working with the community to address the challenges facing our society today. to include graduating Ghana High School in 1940 and Florida A & M College in 1941 with a major in religion and education, respectively. She later attended Columbia University and earned a Bachelor of Divinity in 1953.

Despite the loss of people and God's evident work in the world, her faith job took her to Mississippi, but she soon returned home when she realized her career with the Pawleys Island School. The idea of her first graders at Melrose Elementary was her greatest joy. Even until her death, she remembered each one of them by name. Her career continued on 16th Street Junior High and Campbell Park Elementary schools. She retired as a media specialist after 38 years of service in education.

Her personal adventures were equally as challenging as her work, teaching music and leading the role of spiritual growth in children of the Pawleys Island community. She also traveled the world.

A 49-year member of Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority, she also served as chairman of the National Council of Negro Women, Youth Council. She was also a member of the Campbells, NAACP S.C.C. Social Club for Retired Teachers, Okeechobee County M. W. U. and a lifetime member of Mrs. Anna.
